During the interview [redacted] explained that he is not related to JOSEPH BONANNO, who was recently publicized in the newspapers and he has never heard his father mention the name of JOSEPH BONANNO in any capacity.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] has recently been kidding him about his relationship with JOSEPH BONANNO. According to [redacted] has jokingly asked him "how is your Uncle Joe?" [redacted] recalls that about 1/9/65 he informed [redacted] that he was going to Mexico. He stated that nothing else was discussed concerning this trip until on 1/15/65 when [redacted] visited his place of employment, [redacted] stated it was quite obvious from comments made by [redacted] that he was interested in learning the purpose of his trip to Mexico. He stated that [redacted] continued "bugging" him about his trip and he finally told [redacted] he was going to Mexico to see his "Uncle Joe." He explained that he can not recall having any contact with [redacted] since that date. [redacted] added that no other individual, to his knowledge, has kidded him about a relationship with JOSEPH BONANNO or manifested any interest in his trip to Mexico. [redacted] stated BONANNO, JR. has been and continues to be a source of considerable concern and annoyment to the neighbors in his area. His home is constantly frequented by numerous young men and girls of the "hoodlum" type. They are for the most part interested in drag racing and are continuously racing through the area at all hours of the night causing considerable noise and commotion. In addition to this, young girls are observed coming and going from the house at all hours. All this has been reported on numerous occasions to the Phoenix PD by neighbors.

[redacted] He advised on 1/23/65 that one of the associates of BONANNO, JR. now is [redacted]

SUBJECT: UNSUBS (2)
JOSEPH BONANNO - VICTIM
OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE -

Phoenix has determined through investigation in this matter that Joseph Bonanno, Jr., 19-year-old son of the subject,* is associating regularly with [redacted] Investigation in the [redacted] neighborhood of the residence which Joseph Bonanno, Jr., is now occupying has indicated that this house is being frequented by a number of young men and girls at all hours of the day and night and that their activity is the source of growing concern and complaints from residents in that area. According to information developed by Phoenix, [redacted] is spending a great deal of time with Bonanno and on occasion apparently staying overnight at this house.

Phoenix has designated a lead for Los Angeles to interview [redacted] concerning [redacted] association with Joseph Bonanno, Jr., for possible assistance in this investigation. It is highly unlikely that [redacted] would have any information of value to the main issues of this investigation, or for that matter, that Joseph Bonanno, Jr., would even be aware of the exact whereabouts of his father. However, in view of [redacted] favorable relationship with the Los Angeles Office in the past and in consideration of his growing prominence in political circles in [redacted] in that he has been named as a strong possibility for candidacy for [redacted] it is believed he should be made aware of [redacted] association with Joseph Bonanno, Jr., in questionable activity in [redacted]

[redacted] b6 b7C

As you know, Bonanno is the center of heated controversy at the top level of La Cosa Nostra due to his intransigence in refusing to comply with demands of his "commission" associates with regard to the conduct of the affairs of his "family." Bonanno has been highly publicized during recent months as a result of his alleged abduction at gun point on a New York City street during the early morning hours of October 21, 1964, [redacted] b3 b6 b7C b7D Since that time, intensive investigation has been conducted to determine if there has been a violation of the Obstruction of Justice Statute in connection with Bonanno's disappearance. [redacted]

[redacted] b7D has divulged that Gaspare DiGregorio, a veteran member of the Bonanno "family," who rebelled against Joseph Bonanno in the early stages of this controversy, will probably be made the "boss" of the Bonanno "family" following its reorganization. [redacted]

With regard to the alleged abduction, [redacted] stated that DiGregorio was the individual responsible for this incident.

As you know, investigation in this matter determined that [redacted] was associating with Joseph Bonanno, Jr., in questionable activity in the neighborhood of the [redacted] Bonanno residence, which was becoming a subject of complaints from residents in that area. Because of [redacted] past favorable relationship with the Los Angeles Office, and in view of his growing political prominence, Los Angeles Office instructed to apprise him of this activity. Complaints arose from all-night partying and "hotrodding" by young Bonanno and his friends in this neighborhood.

Re Bureau tel to Los Angeles dated 1/29/65.

In accordance with referenced teletype, [redacted] was advised by SA [redacted] on 2/1/65 concerning [redacted] association with JOSEPH BONANNO, Jr., in Phoenix, Arizona. He was most appreciative and stated he realized that such an association and actions on the part of [redacted] might well jeopardize any political aspirations he might have. He, of course, expressed concern for [redacted] behavior and reputation.

[redacted] stated he would telephone [redacted] and instruct him to dis-associate himself gracefully and in a manner which would cause no trouble or speculation. He stated that the Bureau's courtesy in this matter will be kept absolutely confidential.

[redacted] commented that he realizes that it would be improper to express his appreciation in writing and requested that SA [redacted] convey the great admiration he has for the Director and the Bureau and to express his thanks for the Bureau's cooperation.

JOSEPH BONANNO - VICTIM

Enclosed are 21 latent fingerprint lifts, 74 photographs of these lifts, and 17 negatives of the photographs of the lifts.

The lifts and photographs were obtained by the NYO from Apartment [redacted]

This apartment was occupied by CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, FBI #4733808, [redacted] SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO, FBI #988087D, FRANK LaBRUZZO, no FBI number but fingerprints submitted 8/28/42 by Captain of Port of New York #677046W, JOHN JOSEPH MORALES, FBI #4138047, [redacted] JOSEPH ZICARELLI, FBI #1107492, and possibly JOSEPH BONANNO, FBI #2534540, victim in above matter.

It is noted that the enclosures are contained in two envelopes, one bearing the names SAS [redacted] and [redacted] and the other bearing the names SAS [redacted] In both instances the numbers on the back of the photographs correspond with the numbers on the lifts, which were taken by agents.

On some of the photographs of latent fingerprints it was impossible to identify them due to the surface on which the latent appeared and in some instances it was also impossible to photograph the latent print because of the nature of the surface on which the latent appeared.

The Latent Fingerprint Section is requested to compare the lifts and photographs enclosed with the fingerprints of the above listed individuals. If prints of victim JOSEPH BONANNO are determined to be among those developed, this could substantially assist in the development of an OOJ - CONSPIRACY violation. In the event none of the latent fingerprints are identical to the fingerprints of the persons set forth above, the enclosures may be destroyed by the Laboratory.

[redacted] IRS, Tucson, Arizona, advised SA [redacted] on 2/24/65 that the Cadillac which SALVATORE V. BONANNO drove to Tucson 12/29/64 and which was subsequently seized by the IRS, was released to SALVATORE BONANNO's attorney, [redacted] Tucson, on 2/15/65.

SA [redacted] ascertained from USA JO ANN D. DIAMOS, Tucson, that she authorized the release of the car to [redacted] however, Miss DIAMOS has furnished to SA [redacted] the affidavit presented to her from [redacted] which affidavit purported to have been made by [redacted] of the Altruda Trucking Company, New York, stating that they had authorized BONANNO's use of their car "the Cadillac".

A new case is being opened and a report will be submitted on [redacted] inasmuch as USA DIAMOS requested investigation by this Bureau to determine if a possible 1001 violation may have been committed in the affidavit mentioned above as well as a previous affidavit from the same company which was rejected by Miss DIAMOS when [redacted] presented same previously for the release of vehicle.

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI (72-1629)
Attn.: FBI LABORATORY

DATE: 2/10/65

FROM : SAC, NEW YORK (92-3501)

SUBJECT: UNSUBS 2O
JOSEPH BONANNO - VICTIM
OOJ - CONSPIRACY

Enclosed herewith are 2 boxes of poker chips, 1 deck of playing cards, 1 ash tray, 1 empty package of Alberto VO5 and 5 laundry slips (one torn).

The above items were obtained from [redacted] on 2/4/65. b6 b7C

This apt. was occupied by CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, FBI #4733808; JOSEPH NOTARO, FBI #452993A; SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO, FBI #988087D; FRANK LaBRUZZO, No FBI # but fingerprints submitted 8/28/42 by Captain of Port of New York #677046W; JOHN JOSEPH MORALES, FBI #4138047; [redacted] JOSEPH ZICARELLI, FBI #1107492 and possibly JOSEPH BONANNO, FBI #2534540, victim in above matter.

The Laboratory is requested to expeditiously process each individual item for possible fingerprints of above individual and possibly others.

If prints of victim, JOSEPH BONANNO, are determined to be among items to be processed this could circumstantially assist in development of OOJ-Conspiracy violation.

SUBJECT: UNKNOWN SUBJECTS (2);
JOSEPH BONANNO - VICTIM
OOJ - CONSPIRACY

OO: New York City

As the Bureau has been previously advised, Phoenix has interviewed JOSEPH BONANNO, JR., on several occasions. During these interviews, he has always exhibited a very courteous attitude while still maintaining he knows nothing concerning the whereabouts of his father. Also, during these interviews, BONANNO, JR., has repeatedly expressed more affection and respect for his brother BILL than for his father.

From investigation conducted by Phoenix recently, it appears that BONANNO, JR., is in financial straits. He was arrested again by the Scottsdale, Arizona, PD on 2/4/65 for driving on an expired license, and in addition has an assault - felony charge still pending against him in Scottsdale. It is also known that he is overdrawn at the Bank of Scottsdale.

BONANNO, JR., is devoting most of his time to his pursuit of stock car racing and has apparently exhausted every cent he can get his hands on in modifying an automobile which he drives in local events. In view of this, some financial assistance at this point might be even more attractive to him.

Bureau authority is therefore requested to offer BONANNO, JR., $5,000.00 for information leading directly to the location of his father, on a C.O.D. basis.

Although Phoenix has no information that BONANNO, JR., has information regarding his father's location, nor is it known that he could obtain this if he wanted to, Phoenix would like to be in a position to offer him some financial reimbursement if during contacts with him it would appear appropriate or prudent to do so.

Re Phoenix airtel to Albuquerque, 2/2/65.

AT TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, NEW MEXICO:

The following inquiries were made by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] on 2/5/65:

[redacted] mechanic, [redacted] recalled receiving a telephone call from a fat man at the Black Range Motel around 8:30 to 9:00 a.m., Monday, February 1, 1965, for emergency service. [redacted] went to the Black Range Motel where he met a man whom he identified as CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, Jr., by photograph. There he found CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, Jr. had car trouble with a 1964 white Grand Prix Pontiac with Arizona license [redacted] (remainder of numbers not recalled.)

He returned the car to [redacted] with CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, Jr., a woman assumed to be his wife, and two children. The car was found to have a loose alternator belt, a bad alternator, and the battery required charging, and the battery cables were cleaned. The total bill was nominal, and he was not able to identify the bill in his papers, since it would have been a cash ticket for only a few dollars. CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, Jr., said something about going to Tucson, and remarked that he would have the alternator repaired later. This was the extent of his contact with CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, Jr.

[redacted] said she b6 b7C rented a two-bedroom to a person she recognized from a photograph as CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, Jr., late on the night of 1/31/65. There were a woman and two children with him. He registered as Mr. C. BATTAGLIA, 1938 W. Lester, Tucson, Arizona. He complained of having a car broken down nearby, and made no contact with anyone either directly or by phone to her knowledge other than calling the Pontiac dealer by phone from her office on the morning of 2/1/65. These customers departed about 8:30 a.m. on 2/1/65, and she has no other information concerning them, and has not previously had them as guests. There was no phone in their room.

Numerous additional contacts were made with police officers and other garages in [redacted] in an effort to develop information concerning CHARLES JOSEPH BATTAGLIA, Jr., but no additional positive information was developed.

Continued investigation of [redacted] in Albuquerque, New Mexico, has not developed any additional information of interest in connection with captioned investigation.

In addition to the foregoing individuals receiving FGJ subpoenas regarding [redacted] b3 it is noted the below listed persons appeared at the SDNY with their respective attorneys for service of their subpoenas:

[redacted] b3 b6 b7C

[redacted] advised SAS [redacted] and [redacted] on 11/2/64 that he had not made specific inquiry regarding the disappearance of JOSEPH BONANNO, but that the following information had come to him through [redacted] He could not specifically attribute this information to any one individual nor was he possessed of additional details: b6 b7C b7D

It is generally rumored [redacted] that the attorneys who were with BONANNO at the time of his disappearance are not furnishing all of the information in their possession to law enforcement agencies. There is indication that these attorneys were in some respect involved in the disappearance of BONANNO. Rumor has it that while suspicion falls particularly on the attorney from Arizona, the attorney from New York is also possessed of considerable information which he is allegedly withholding. b7D

[redacted] was pressed for additional details regarding the foregoing information but advised that he had not been in a position to pump any of the individuals who had been instrumental in providing him with said information. He added that he will be alert to any additional information coming to his attention regarding this disappearance. b7D

[redacted] on 11/3/64 advised SA [redacted] that JOSEPH BONANNO is "above water". Informant stated that members of the BONANNO "family" still are not positive as to actually what happened to their "boss" but feel that he is not "gone". b6 b7C b7D

Information previously has been set forth reflecting information furnished by BU 280-C* to the effect that JOSEPH BONANNO was taken across the Prison Bridge (Queensboro 59th Street Bridge) to a boat tied up at a pier located nearby.

Bureau agents, on 11/5/64, and dates thereafter, conducted a thorough search of the Queens waterfront district from Borden Avenue to Berrian Boulevard, in an effort to locate a boat anchorage which may have been used by the alleged abductors of BONANNO. This search disclosed that there were only two public wharfs plus several miles of industrial wharfs in this area. Bureau agents located only one pleasure craft, which is owned by [redacted] and this craft is presently undergoing repairs. b6 b7C

It is noted this search by Bureau agents also encompassed the vicinity of the Queensboro Bridge (referred to in criminal circles as the Prison Bridge), the Queens Midtown Tunnel and the Triboro Bridge, along the waterfront known as the East Channel of the East River.

This search failed to reveal any possible craft that was used in the alleged abduction of BONANNO.

[redacted] advised SAS [redacted] on 10/28/64, that [redacted] an individual who has a reputation of being an associate of [redacted] had been advised that [redacted] had fingered JOE BONANNO in the recent kidnapping. According to information available to [redacted] had the contract in this kidnapping. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 10/30/64, [redacted] that the word around the street in [redacted] regarding the disappearance of JOSEPH BONANNO is that BONANNO came to New York to iron out some differences with the GAMBINOs; BONANNO was actually being set up by his lawyer; that he was killed and the body dropped in Long Island City.

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] that [redacted] b6 b7C b7D
[redacted] he is of the opinion that the kidnapping of JOE BONANNO is a complete hoax. He further bases this on a conversation he overheard, wherein a fellow known to him as [redacted] mentioned that JOE BONANNO was okay. Informant stated that it is his understanding that [redacted] male, [redacted]

NY 3986-C* advised on 11/9/64, that THOMAS EBOLI, "acting boss", GENOVESE "family", briefly discussed BONANNO matter with MICHAEL GENOVESE, brother of VITO GENOVESE. EBOLI felt BONANNO situation still being mishandled by representatives of the "Commission". Apparently, CARLO GAMBINO, "boss" of the GAMBINO "family", has been in contact with some individuals in the BONANNO "family", but did not ask the right questions of these individuals.

EBOLI stated that he heard that [redacted] a missing b6 b7C

[redacted] according to EBOLI's source, frequents this bar nightly, accompanied by [redacted] and female companions.

EBOLI commented to GENOVESE that "being these guys are around, [redacted] is one of the important ones that they (the "Commission") should be talking to". This remark is believed to be in the same vein as EBOLI's opening remark that they (the "Commission") are mishandling the whole BONANNO matter.

EBOLI concluded this topic of conversation stating, "Now these guys ought to send for these guys. You got to make an appearance over here", meaning the "Commission" members should call [redacted] before them and ask certain questions that EBOLI had previously suggested if they sincerely wanted to know what happened to BONANNO.

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 10/29/64 and 11/5/64, that he had no positive information regarding the whereabouts of JOE BONANNO. He advised that any information available is merely conjecture on the part of the present members of the BONANNO "family". He stated the old line members of this "family" do not believe and will not believe that their "boss" has been "planted". b6 b7C b7D

Informant advised that the expression being used among the members of the BONANNO "family" is "he is above water". He stated this, in effect, means that they believe that he is still alive.

Informant advised that JOE BONANNO was in serious trouble with the "Commission" in that word had leaked out that he had contemplated to "rub out" TOMMY LUCHESE and CARLO GAMBINO. It was also due to the fact that BONANNO wanted to take over the narcotics racket in this area and be the number one kingpin.

Informant stated that in addition to the disappearance of JOSEPH BONANNO, [redacted] and FRANK LA BRUZZO have been missing since the time of JOE's abduction. He advised, however, that one [redacted], who is close to [redacted] has been seen in the recent past. He further advised that BONANNO's son, BILL BONANNO, was reportedly in the NYC area the last week of October, 1964. b6 b7C

BS 837-C* advised on 11/18/64, that PATRIARCA told his [redacted] that JOE BONANNO "took it on the lam himself" and further, that [redacted] is with him. He further stated that redacted and all the "underbosses" are meeting later this week to see what they want to do with the rest of BONANNO's "family". b6 b7C

PATRIARCA made the comment that BONANNO put a great act on in front of the lawyers, but "did put them on the spot". He indicated that the lawyers knew nothing concerning the alleged kidnaping.

SAS of the FBI, NYO, in view of information furnished by BS 837-C*, furnished physical coverage to [redacted] a "caporegima" in the JOSEPH BONANNO "family" of La Cosa Nostra, and [redacted] "caporegima", BONANNO "family" from 11/20/64 through 11/22/64; however, no pertinent information was developed with respect to a proposed meeting.

On 10/31/64, [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that [redacted] did not understand the reason behind the kidnaping of BONANNO. On 11/16/64, the same informant advised SA [redacted] that it was everybody's opinion that JOSEPH BONANNO was dead. He referred to the opinion of members of the Italian hoodlum element in Milwaukee.

Photographs of victim JOSEPH BONANNO and other members of his La Cosa Nostra "family" were displayed to the manager [redacted] and all employees of this motel; however, no identification was made of any of these individuals as ever having registered at this motel.

BS 837-C* advised on 11/25/64, that PATRIARCA advised [redacted] from Boston, Massachusetts, after being asked by [redacted] as to what happened to BONANNO, that JOE BONANNO "went away". PATRIARCA replied that after he sent [redacted] to apparently find out what the situation was in regards to BONANNO, he also sent word to New York to find out. The kid from New York came in and told him that he went away by himself. PATRIARCA guessed that the reason BONANNO went away by himself was that they threw him out of the "Commission" in addition to not wanting to appear before the Grand Jury. b6 b7C

On 12/27/64, NK 2251-C* reported that [redacted] and his "lieutenant", [redacted] discussed the BONANNO matter. Although portions of their conversation were inaudible, the informant reported that [redacted] too, had learned that BONANNO's abduction was a "put-up job". [redacted] felt that BONANNO had acted unilaterally, convincing even his attorney that his kidnaping was genuine. [redacted] indicated that BONANNO had only worsened his situation by fleeing, thereby bringing additional publicity to the organization. He believes that the "Commission" now will most certainly dispose of him when he is located. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 12/7/64, that the JOSEPH BONANNO "family" is completely disorganized and many former members have joined forces with other "families" in La Cosa Nostra. He stated in particular these members who have left the BONANNO "family" have taken up with the COLOMBO, GAMBINO and MAGADDINO "families". b6 b7C b7D

Informant stated that the remaining "family" members are ready to accept MAGADDINO's relative from the Buffalo, NY area as their new "family" head. He stated [redacted] is coming down from the Buffalo, NY area to take over what remains of the BONANNO "family". b7D

Informant further advised that the members of the BONANNO "family" are ready to make a "hit" themselves on their former "boss" JOE BONANNO, his son BILL BONANNO, and even JOE BONANNO's wife, FAYE, if necessary. He stated these members of the former BONANNO "family" believe they have been "left out in the cold" and "left holding the bag".

Informant stated that [redacted] is still the contact man between the BONANNO "family" members in the NYC area and those members who are "hiding out". He further advised that [redacted] is reportedly in frequent contact with [redacted] who has been seen in both the Bronx and Manhattan areas. b6 b7C

Informant advised that the complete collapse of the BONANNO "family" will come if and when JOHNNY BURNS and [redacted] leave and join forces with some other "family" of La Cosa Nostra.

Informant stated that the other "families" of La Cosa Nostra are fearful of leaving a rebel group hanging in mid air such as what remains of the BONANNO "family" members because they are fearful of another "GALLO incident". Informant stated for this reason, they hope that all members of the BONANNO "family" either swear allegiance to their reported new leader GASPARINO or join forces with some other group.

He advised that WINCHELL has been considered a mouth-piece for the syndicate for many years and stated that this particular release pertaining to JOSEPH BONANNO was in all probability made to establish the authenticity of the kidnaping.

Informant further advised that BONANNO's top aides, JOHNNY BURNS and [redacted] are also going to be relegated to the position of "soldiers". b6 b7C

Informant further advised that [redacted] was responsible for JOHNNY BURNS being replaced as "underboss" in the BONANNO "family". He stated [redacted] "blew the whistle" on BURNS because BURNS was shaking him down. b6 b7C

Informant further advised that JOSEPH BONANNO's son, BILL, is going to remain in the reorganization of the BONANNO "family" for the time being. He stated that BONANNO is well protected in that he has nine relatives who are highly placed throughout the La Cosa Nostra organization.

Informant also stated that BONANNO first got into trouble with the other "families" of La Cosa Nostra when he and the now deceased MAGLIOCCO conspired to "hit" GAMBINO and LUCHESE. He stated that COLOMBO had the contract for this "hit", but instead of fulfilling the contract he turned informant and advised GAMBINO and LUCHESE what was in the making. Informant stated that this is the reason that COLOMBO is so highly placed at the present time.

Informant advised that he has received no information indicating that the members of the BONANNO "family" were going to have a Christmas gathering, which is customary in La Cosa Nostra "families".

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 12/10/64, that [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] advised that "they" are making progress in the BONANNO situation and things seem to be working out. Informant interpreted this to mean that the "Commission" was in contact with BONANNO personally or through intermediaries and the situation was being arbitrated. Informant stated there is no longer any tension on the streets between New York La Cosa Nostra "families".

The informant also was of the opinion that the WINCHELL story looked like something that BONANNO and WILLIAM POWER MALONEY, victim's NYC attorney, may have engineered to explain the disappearance of BONANNO.

NK 2461-C* reported that on 12/22/64, SAMUEL RIZZO DE CAVALCANTE asked [redacted] his opinion of the "Joe Bonanno thing". [redacted] replied that BONANNO is making an ass of himself and everybody else. DE CAVALCANTE replied, "Don't worry, he won't be doing nothing no more". [redacted] stated that he was surprised that BONANNO's own "family" does not put him away and DE CAVALCANTE stated, "Don't worry about it". b6 b7C

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 11/30/64, that [redacted] has not been seen with JOE COLOMBO for the past several weeks and there appears to be some disagreement between [redacted] and COLUMBO; that COLOMBO appeared to be using [redacted] primarily as a runner and did not appear to be giving [redacted] the respect which [redacted] felt was owed to him. Informant advised that he heard from [redacted] that JOSEPH BONANNO, who was allegedly kidnaped, was not kidnaped in fact, but that it was his way of getting away from the service of a subpoena and appearing before a Grand Jury. He advised that at the present time, it is his understanding that [redacted] is actually sitting on the fence and does not know whether to go with JOE COLOMBO or to back JOE BONANNO. It was his opinion that [redacted] would probably back JOE BONANNO, feeling that he had more to gain from this course of action than continuing in his position with JOE COLOMBO. Based on this reasoning, the informant believed that possibly something might be done to COLOMBO in a relatively short time, or possibly BONANNO may make an appearance. He also ventured an opinion that possibly BONANNO was in the vicinity of Venice, NY, because of the fact that [redacted] was going to that area. It was his understanding that Venice, NY, is located quite far upstate and that it is a desolate hunting area and that a hunting lodge is available up there. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 12/21/64, that [redacted] castigated JOSEPH BONANNO, saying that BONANNO's actions regarding the alleged kidnaping and the publicity surrounding his supposed reappearance before the Grand Jury were completely stupid and ridiculous. He also stated that it was his understanding BONANNO had only JOHNNY BURNS left and indicated that BONANNO still did not have his troubles fixed up with the "Commission".

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 12/31/64, that the kidnaping of JOSEPH BONANNO was a well calculated and planned job pulled off by two to four individuals from a "rebel group" within JOSEPH BONANNO's "family". The informant stated that GASPARE DI GREGORIO, a "rebel" under the guidance of STEVE MAGADDINO, who is the Buffalo "boss" of La Cosa Nostra, planned the grab of BONANNO. Informant stated he does not know the present whereabouts of BONANNO, but the individuals who actually grabbed BONANNO were from the Youngstown, Ohio or Erie, Pennsylvania area. Informant stated that he does not know the true identification of the BONANNO abductors. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] stated that JOSEPH BONANNO has only about eight "captains" and their men who still stand with him, and that the rest belong to a group whom he refers to as the "rebel group". b7D

The informant stated that it was felt by some outside elements that it was BILL BONANNO and [redacted] who actually kidnaped JOSEPH BONANNO to prevent BONANNO's appearance before a Federal Grand Jury, and also to give time to resolve the "rebel situation" within the BONANNO "family", but that this was not true. b6 b7C

STEVE MAGADDINO is the most powerful member of the "Commission" and reportedly is responsible for deposing BONANNO. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 12/2/64, that he recently heard [redacted] mentioned that JOE BONANNO and his son are definitely dead, but the wife is hiding out so that she will not have to answer questions. Informant advised that these individuals were saying that each member must be extremely careful when they go out to make sure who they are with and to associate only with close and reliable "friends". Based upon the conversation, the informant assumes that [redacted] fear trouble with any followers that BONANNO might have had. According to the informant, these individuals are under the impression that BONANNO was furnishing information to the FBI. They also told of BONANNO's conspiracy with MAGLIOCCO and later with JOE COLOMBO to take over [redacted] place as the "boss of bosses".

The informant is certain that the "Commission" put out the word to "hit" BONANNO and is reasonably certain that the job has been handled. Informant stated that it is extremely unlikely that BONANNO would be able to hide from the "Commission" anywhere in the world. He recalled only one incident known to him where a member actually fooled the entire organization by hiding out in Italy. This person was located by law enforcement and returned to the United States to stand trial for a narcotics violation. Informant furnished the name as [redacted] and stated that the organization is still very unhappy with him because he fooled them completely. He explained that apparently few people in the underworld actually know what happened to BONANNO and they are at a loss to explain what benefit he will derive if the kidnaping is actually a hoax. Informant stated that individuals in [redacted] have the definite opinion that BONANNO is dead. Conversations [redacted] were so positive in this regard that it appeared that the people doing the talking "were there when they buried him". b6 b7C b7D Informant advised that [redacted] He noted that there is so much uneasiness and unrest at the present time that it is dangerous to "walk along the street at night". He noted that although there has been an alleged settlement between COLOMBO and GALLO, this, in informant's opinion, is only window dressing and he fully expects further problems between these factions. He also noted that [redacted] are being very careful because of the BONANNO incident and have apparently been warned to be very careful as trouble is expected.

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 12/7/64, that after the holidays, the "books will be opened" and there may be some major changes. He advised that a number of "bosses" are displeased with many of the young "good fellows". He stated that information had come to his attention that these young "good fellows" have not been conforming to strict discipline and that if they get out of line, the only thing done has been to have a "sit down" and that this remedy does not appear to keep them in line. He again stated that JOSEPH BONANNO has only disappeared and felt that this is only a temporary situation. He stated BONANNO is definitely going to show, but it is now believed it will not be until after 1/1/65. He stated it is important for him to make an appearance in that the Government has all of his holdings tied up.

The informant also advised that GASPARINA (ph), commonly referred to as GASPARE, is now considered the leading figure in the BONANNO "family". The informant stated that GASPARE has holdings in shoe repair stores of the supermarket variety located on Long Island.

The informant further advised that [redacted] b6 b7C b7D had [redacted] party for [redacted] at the La Scala Restaurant, 1442 West 54th Street, NYC, on the evening of 12/20/64. He stated this party was considered a flop, in that none of the so-called leaders or figures considered powerful, were in attendance in that they were instructed not to attend. Furthermore, [redacted] is not the most popular guy in the BONANNO "family" and for that reason alone many members of the "family" stayed away. He stated the reason that "family" members were instructed not to attend this affair was due to the fact that they did not want members congregating in any one particular place because only recently several members were picked up at the Parkview Bar, Forsyth Street, NYC, for consorting. In view of information received from [redacted] b7D relative to the BONANNO "administration" meeting which was to be held on 12/28/64, the NYO conducted the following investigation and placed under extremely discreet fisur, the following BONANNO "caporegimas":

[redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] was observed backing her car out of the garage approximately 9:50 a.m., and driving [redacted] to the IRT Pelham Bay subway stop. [redacted] from outset, appeared extremely fisur conscious, passed up two trains before embarking a downtown train, and, at last minute darted between closing doors of the train. He rode to Westchester Square where he debarked. He remained on the platform a full three minutes before going to the street level. [redacted] was not further observed.

[redacted] was not observed by Bureau agents at his residence or place of business. [redacted] 12/28/64. A discreet fisur was maintained in [redacted] neighborhood throughout the day and no unusual traffic was observed to indicate possible gathering at that residence.

[redacted] departed residence at approximately 9:30 a.m., and proceeded via rented 1965 green Oldsmobile NY license plate 6L436, registered to the Waldorf Auto Leasing Company, Brooklyn, NY, to his employment at [redacted] where he entered at 10:15 a.m. [redacted] during day, walked to various stores in downtown Manhattan, however, appeared to make no pertinent contacts. At 3:05 p.m., he drove to Front Street, Brooklyn, NY. This building houses toy manufacturers and contact appeared to be legitimate as he is [redacted] returned to NYC and re-entered [redacted] premises. At 5:55 p.m., [redacted] departed and was seen driving west on West 43rd Street. [redacted] throughout the day, while driving, went through evasive tactics, at times running lights and making illegal maneuvers in order to lose any possible fisur. b6 b7C

[redacted] departed residence at approximately 9:28 a.m. and was observed entering a white Ford, NY license 8Z8209, registered to Crosby Private Car Service, 1733 Elder Avenue, Bronx, and driven by [redacted] was dropped off at the IRT subway station, Pelham Bay line. [redacted] as did [redacted] went through various evasive tactics prior to entering downtown train. He rode to Grand Central Station where again evasive tactics were employed prior to boarding the Lexington Avenue IRT express train to Union Square. [redacted] at this point, paced up and down the platform for a full ten minutes "dry cleaning himself" and observing individuals around him before boarding crosstown Canarsie train. He rode to 14th Street and 8th Avenue, NYC, where he departed. [redacted] was last observed at this point at 10:40 a.m.

Bureau agents thoroughly searched area for [redacted] prior to checking out [redacted] known hangouts, Capital Barber Shop, 253 West 49th Street; Snooky's Luncheonette and the Deli-Box, NYC. [redacted] was not observed at these locations.

[redacted] departed his residence at approximately 1:06 p.m., and entered his automobile, NY license [redacted] He proceeded to 40th Street and 3rd Avenue, after going through extreme evasive tactics. [redacted] was next observed at 4:41 p.m. standing on the streetcorner of Delancey and Chrystie Streets with [redacted] with other unidentifed individuals, observed together at Joe's Restaurant, Delancey and Chrystie Streets, NYC.

[redacted] departed his residence at approximately 2:30 p.m., via taxi cab and proceeded to the Parkview Bar and Restaurant, 124 Forsyth Street, NYC. He was observed conversing with unidentified individuals at bar for approximately 30 minutes, after which time [redacted] departed bar. They walked throughout this area, conversing and seemingly "dry cleaning" themselves and inspecting vehicles in the area. They re-entered the above restaurant. [redacted] departed the above restaurant alone approximately 15 minutes later and walked slowly to Joe's Restaurant where he was joined by [redacted] observed joining [redacted] approximately 5 minutes later. b6 b7C

The above three alternately observed circling immediate area and observing vehicles in the area. Occasionally, [redacted] were observed making trips between Joe's Restaurant and the Parkview Bar. All departed restaurant separately and after extensive "dry cleaning" methods and evasive tactics, [redacted] not further observed by Bureau agents. Thereafter, [redacted] observed together with two females in the Parkview Bar.

[redacted] was not observed throughout the day or evening of 12/28/64. b6 b7C

[redacted] furnished no information which would indicate members of BONANNO "administration" visited office of attorney [redacted] 12/28/64. b7D

NYO developed a stationary observation post overlooking the vicinity of 30th Street and 6th Avenue, NYC, however, no members of BONANNO "family" noted this particular area, location of Attorney [redacted] office. b6 b7C

Known hangouts of SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO were checked by Bureau agents on 12/28/64 and his presence was not noted.

[redacted] telephonically advised SA [redacted] on 12/30/64, that he had learned the situation regarding JOSEPH BONANNO was completely different than he had previously advised. He stated that he [redacted] had learned that BONANNO had lost his fight with the "Commission" and was definitely out, and that a new man, whom the informant could not name over the telephone, was reputedly moving up to take the "big man's" place. Informant stated that JOSEPH BONANNO was not in Tucson, Arizona at the time and he believed BONANNO was currently in Upstate New York, his exact whereabouts unknown. b6 b7C b7D

Informant felt that now would be a good time for the FBI to approach JOSEPH BONANNO to make a deal with him. The informant expressed the opinion that BONANNO has a very short time to live and one week might be too late to contact him to negotiate a deal.

NK 2461-C* advised on 12/31/64, that SAMUEL RIZZO DE CAVALCANTE met with JOSEPH ZICARELLI, aka Joe Bayonne, today. ZICARELLI told DE CAVALCANTE of BONANNO "family" meeting he attended the evening of 12/29/64 in New York. Attending this meeting were a committee of BONANNO "family" appointed by the "Commission" to run the "family", including [redacted] and some 30 members of the BONANNO "family". GASPARINO took ZICARELLI upstairs from the others at one point and told him that it had been suggested [redacted] be killed because of his reluctance to return his "regime" to the BONANNO "family" and "Commission's" recognition. ZICARELLI said that this should not be done as [redacted] is suffering from a sense of mistaken loyalty. The committee decided to give [redacted] until 1/8/65 to develop the proper attitude or be "thrown out" of the BONANNO "family". ZICARELLI is to see [redacted] on 12/30/64 and attempt to correct his attitude. ZICARELLI said he would "kill him" if [redacted] continues his present attitude. The committee admitted in its meeting that [redacted] has been told previously that he could continue as "acting caporegima". The "Commission" apparently heard of this and said no BONANNO "family" member has any rank above "soldier". b6 b7C

DE CAVALCANTE indicated he has seen the "Commission" and is holding CARLO GAMBINO and JOSEPH COLOMBO responsible for proper treatment of [redacted] and any of his "regime" members appearing before the "Commission". DE CAVALCANTE asked for and received ZICARELLI's confirmation that the rest of [redacted] group are in "proper hands". b6 b7C

[redacted] was late in arriving at the meeting and some attending thought they were "set up". Mood of most of the attendees was "very tense". When [redacted] came to the meeting, ZICARELLI took him aside and told [redacted] to declare himself a million per cent in favor of the "Commission" or ZICARELLI will take [redacted] people away from him. b6 b7C

The consensus of opinion among the BONANNO "family" members is that BILL BONANNO acted like a "cowboy" and tried to run the "family" like a "wild west show". BILL BONANNO is thought to be "sick" or "immature" by BONANNO "family" members.

JOHNNY BURNS (JOHN MORALES) was the only BONANNO "family" member invited who did not attend the meeting. The committee and most of those present viewed his non-attendance as serious. [redacted] assured all that BURNS is ill and bedridden and could not attend. ZICARELLI indicated that he returned home 3 a.m. 12/31/64, for the meeting.

most instances when the "Commission" orders a "hit", the victim is usually "hit" by his closest friend. For this reason, it is entirely possible that BONANNO may be with a family of legitimate business people whom he met through his dress business or with a group connected with the Jewish element of the underworld or any element other than Italian members of La Cosa Nostra. He added that the "Commission" would know where to look if BONANNO was with his close friends, plus the fact that any member of La Cosa Nostra who did hide BONANNO would be in trouble himself with the "Commission". He stated that BONANNO, himself, has ordered enough "hits" so that he is well aware of the fact that most "hits" are made by the victim's closest friend.

Informant concluded by saying that members of the organization are very closed-mouthed these days and he, therefore, did not obtain much information of value during his recent contacts.

[redacted] advised SA [redacted] on 1/21/65, that the exact present whereabouts of JOSEPH BONANNO is unknown. He stated, however, that from information developed to date, there is a strong indication that JOE BONANNO either is or is going to take up residence in some Latin American country. He further advised that BONANNO has reportedly grown a mustache and Van Dyke and is contemplating a face lifting. b6 b7C b7D

The informant stated that all of BONANNO's trouble with the other "families" of La Cosa Nostra was due to the fact that he was attempting to expand too fast and too far. Informant stated that the BONANNO operation had moved into California and was attempting to take-over the garment industry in NYC. He stated this latter move was foolhardy on the part of BONANNO because all activity in the garment area of NYC is controlled by all members of the "Commission".

The informant stated that if and when JOE BONANNO is "hit", his body will definitely be found. He stated the reason for this is to take the pressure off the rest of the members of the other "families" of La Cosa Nostra. In particular, he stated, that the "family" heads do not relish the thought of being subpoenaed by any police organization and in particular by the Federal agencies.

NK 2461-C* advised on 11/23/64, that DE CAVALCANTE was in conversation with [redacted] "underboss" in the DE CAVALCANTE "family". DE CAVALCANTE stated that BONANNO pulled the alleged kidnaping off himself and it was done by his own men, thought to be "his kid" and [redacted] DE CAVALCANTE stated that about 60 guys have turned themselves over to the "Commission" and they have broken away from BONANNO. DE CAVALCANTE stated there are still about 200 with him. b6 b7C

NY 2461-C* advised that SAM DE CAVALCANTE met JOSEPH ZICARELLI on 12/21/64. ZICARELLI's purpose for meeting was to arrange an appointment for ZICARELLI with [redacted] possibly [redacted] later this week in NJ. DE CAVALCANTE agreed to meet [redacted] when ZICARELLI arranged the meeting.

ZICARELLI told DE CAVALCANTE that JOSEPH BONANNO and the rest, BILL BONANNO, MORALES, LA BRUZZO, etc., have agreed to resign. [redacted] apparently is representing the BONANNO "family" faction which elected to stay with BONANNO. As a result of resignations, this faction wants to reunite the "family" and again be recognized by the "Commission". ZICARELLI asked what position those resigning would be allowed to hold in the BONANNO "family". DE CAVALCNNTE said the "Commission" would allow them "solider" status. ZICARELLI asked if the "Commission" favored anyone for "boss" of the "family". DE CAVALCANTE said the "Commission" favors no one for the position and would allow the "family" to choose its own "boss". DE CAVALCANTE said the "Commission" would choose a committee of nine to represent the "family" and allow three of these nine to meet with the "Commission" and inform of the "family's" progress in removing factionalism which now exists in this "family". b6 b7C

DE CAVALCANTE said [redacted] and [redacted] have been chosen by the "Commission" to meet with them and serve on the committee of nine running the "family". ZICARELLI suggested [redacted] be placed on this committee and take the place of one of three who will be appointed to meet the "Commission". DE CAVALCANTE said the "Commission" would have committee rule the "family" for a year's time and then would permit "family" to select its "boss".

DE CAVALCANTE told ZICARELLI that [redacted] should give the "Commission" the impression that the faction he represents is coming back because it recognized it made a mistake and not because the "Commission's" pressure forced faction to return to the organization. b6 b7C

ZICARELLI told DE CAVALCANTE that he heard that JOE BONANNO agreed to make 12/21/64 Grand Jury appearance because he heard the United States Government was going to pick up his son, BILL BONANNO. DE CAVALCANTE and ZICARELLI heard the newscast reporting BONANNO did not make appearance at the Grand Jury, and DE CAVALACANTE said he does not expect BONANNO to make an appearance anywhere anymore.

NK 2461-C* reported that on 12/23/64, [redacted] and JOE ZICARELLI visited with SAM DE CAVALCANTE. [redacted] and DE CAVALCANTE did most of the talking. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that he had been in that morning to pick up his subpoena. He stated that the only reason for doing this was that [redacted] b3 b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that the purpose of his visit with DE CAVALCANTE was to bring him up to date concerning the BONANNO "family" dispute. He stated, "I have him (JOE BONANNO), JOHNNY (MORALES), and BILL (BONANNO) on my hands. In other words, we have a committee of four of which I'm chairman. We had had a meeting and he (JOE BONANNO) resigned rather than see it go any further, effective whatever date I tell him". He indicated that the meeting was held a week ago Wednesday night [redacted] interrupted and stated that the meeting was two weeks ago Wednesday) and attended by the "six or seven captains that are still with us, the boss, underboss, and consiglieri." b6 b7C

[redacted] stated the meeting was held where he has been staying and the meeting lasted until 7 a.m. [redacted] stated that four "captains" have been on the "other side". [redacted] reported that BONANNO stated, at the meeting, that "rather than to have this continue and to avoid bloodshed", he was resigning. BONANNO then appointed the four-man committee.

[redacted] reported that when the meeting broke up, two of the committee, [redacted] were sent to [redacted] house to explain what had taken place. [redacted] was sorry to hear that BONANNO had resigned, according to [redacted] He then stated that he has recently met with [redacted] in [redacted]. Also at the meeting was [redacted] and the acting captain for him, [redacted] stated that he went to [redacted] to get his support. He indicated that there have been numerous other meetings of "captains" in the BONANNO "family".

[redacted] and DE CAVALCANTE then discussed the role SAM DE CAVALCANTE played in an effort to persuade JOE BONANNO to appear before the "Commission". [redacted] stated, "You were introduced to us as four committee men, is that correct? [redacted] is that correct?" [redacted] complained that he was not always notified of decisions made by the other three.

[redacted] stated that at a meeting last Thursday (committee), it was decided that all "captains" would remain, at least until a new "boss" is elected. A new "boss" would have authority to remove any "captain" he does not want. He stated that a discussion was held at the meeting concerning procedure for electing a new "boss". At this meeting, according to [redacted] GASPARE (GASPARE DI GREGORIO) said, "Well, all right, these nine committee men will notify the men that we're all in accord and to return to their captains", and that is the way we left off. [redacted] stated, "They were going to contact the Commission and notify them that we had banded together". He (GASPARE) said, "They would be notified within one hour". [redacted] speculated that GASPARE would notify the "Commission" by telephone or by messenger.

DE CAVALCANTE then asked [redacted] "How long are you a friend of ours [redacted]?" [redacted] replied, "ten years". SAM assured [redacted] that his [redacted] judgment is as good as that of those who have been in 40 years.

[redacted] then reported, "The answer I got last night was that there are no obstacles in the way and there will be a meeting sometime on Monday (12/28/64)". [redacted] indicated the meeting would be of "our administration". In response to DE CAVALCANTE's request for a definition of administration, [redacted] replied, "Captains and so forth".

DE CAVALCANTE inquired if [redacted] would be at the meeting, to which [redacted] replied that everybody would be there, including GASPARE DI GREGORIO, [redacted] etc. [redacted] stated that he also wanted JOHNNY BURNS and BILL BONANNO there. DE CAVALCANTE inquired of [redacted] who was missing on the side of the "Commission", to which [redacted] replied that nobody was missing.

[redacted] then explained that at the meeting last Thursday, it was agreed that the nine-man committee would be disbanded and that the "captains" would continue to function on a temporary basis until a new boss is elected. DE CAVALCANTE felt that the committee of nine should continue to function until such time as the "Commission" will sanction the election of a new "boss". From this committee, [redacted] and DI GREGORIO should answer to the "Commission". SAM then inquired if [redacted] will go alone with him to talk to the "Commission". [redacted] replied that he would go after the meeting on Monday.

[redacted] then stated that he will not go along with the nine-man committee because it was composed mostly of GASPARE's men and because nine are too many. He indicated that he does not trust [redacted] and will not talk to either unless there are witnesses.

[redacted] then stated that he has SAM, JOE, BILL and JOHNNY on his hands and that nothing is going to happen to them if he could help it. He complained that neither [redacted] or GASPARE has tried to explain to him what took place (apparently a reference to a meeting which [redacted] did not attend). He stated that one of his own men, [redacted] told him [redacted] that after he [redacted] had talked to GASPARE, he returned to [redacted] and indicated that he might go on the "other side". [redacted] stated that [redacted] have been with him night and day. He indicated that [redacted] is from [redacted]

[redacted] then complained that he found out that [redacted] who "was on our committee", is also on the "other committee". [redacted] stated that a week before "this thing" broke, [redacted] asked for permission to go see [redacted]

(The significance of the above is not clear, but appears to deal with factionalism within the BONANNO "captains". It is being set out because of the names mentioned.)

After a brief pause, [redacted] stated that [redacted] had been "spokesman" for the nine-man committee. He stated that once they go to the "Commission" and tell them that they are united, that their administration is intact and that their "captains" have burned the hatchet, this nine-man committee will be disbanded and they will function until such time as they elect a "boss". b6 b7C

[redacted] then spoke of GASPARE and stated that it was he [redacted] who had "brought him up" (on charges). [redacted] indicated that SAM and the "Commission" had been notified of this. He referred to a meeting which GASPARE also attended and stated that he spoke to [redacted] and told them that as far as he is concerned, he has not been reinstated. [redacted] said that [redacted] took the position that "you people threw him (GASPARE) out of the family".

DE CAVALCANTE then asked how [redacted] felt. [redacted] stated that he wanted to get this thing over with.

DE CAVALCANTE inquired of [redacted] as to how many people remain that are not with GASPARINO, to which [redacted] replied about 25. DE CAVALCANTE inquired as to how many "caporegimas" this included, and [redacted] advised as follows: [redacted] [redacted] FRANK LA BRUZZO, [redacted] from [redacted] from [redacted] and himself.

DE CAVALCANTE asked how do they feel and if they were in accord with him, to which [redacted] replied yes. DE CAVALCANTE inquired if [redacted] could be spokesman for these people to which [redacted] replied that he was and that they came to the meeting with him with two exceptions and these exceptions were [redacted] from [redacted] and [redacted] from [redacted]

DE CAVALCANTE then stated that on one occasion he had discussed the position of GASPARINO with JOE BONANNO. He stated that he explained to BONANNO that GASPARINO was in the hands of the "Commission" and that he could not be hit. BONANNO stated that it was not he but some of his men who wanted to kill GASPARINO and that he (BONANNO) stopped it, according to DE CAVALCANTE.

[redacted] stated to DE CAVALCANTE that he wanted to ask him a question. He stated that [redacted] was there representing FRANK LA BRUZZO because LA BRUZZO was in the hospital. He stated that [redacted] was there who is a "captain", and also [redacted] stated that not one of them said they were out of order for throwing GASPARE out of the "family". b6 b7C

DE CAVALCANTE stated to [redacted] that that is why he wants him, as a favor, and as a favor to his people, to meet the "Commission" himself, since the "Commission" has other stories. [redacted] inquired if these stores were regarding him [redacted] to which DE CAVALCANTE stated that they were not and they (the administration) kept telling [redacted] that he was making bad moves. [redacted] replied that never in front of him, at any administration meetings did he make bad moves and asked DE CAVALCANTE what the stories were that the "Commission" heard. SAM advised that the administration told him that BONANNO is wrong by not going there.

JOE ZICARELLI, according to NK 2461-C*, entered the conversation and stated that he had heard contrary to that himself. At the meeting they said that no "Commission" or anybody in the world can tell a "family" what to do. [redacted] replied that GASPARINO was asked to come to the administration and refused; that he is guilty, and that is why he deserves to be thrown out of the "family" and that they voted on it. [redacted] stated that everybody voted him guilty and that JOE ZICARELLI was there when it happened. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that they are going to deny this. JOE BONANNO was there. He has 40 years in La Cosa Nostra and part of those years as "boss", and [redacted] another 40 years in La Cosa Nostra. [redacted] replied to DE CAVALACANTE that it was in his [redacted] house that the first meeting was held that they threw GASPARINO out. JOE BONANNO's first words, according to [redacted] were "if you people feel that I'm wrong, you people remove me and kill me". b6 b7C

DE CAVALCANTE then asked [redacted] to postpone the meeting on Monday and go with him to see the "Commission". [redacted] stated that the meeting was set and he could not change it. [redacted] then repeated the names of those who would attend: [redacted] GASPARINO, [redacted] and "everybody". b6 b7C

DE CAVALCANTE at this point stated to [redacted] that he would like to bring him over to TOMMY RYAN and CARLO GAMBINO.

[redacted] again declined until after the meeting on Monday. He stated that nobody has shown him that he is doing anything wrong. If depending his "boss" is wrong, then he is guilty. [redacted] stated to DE CAVALCANTE that up until today (12/23/64) nobody has shown him that he is wrong. [redacted] was critical of the "two elder statesmen" [redacted] for not inviting him as part of the four-man committee when they went before the "Commission".

[redacted] then told SAM that the previous evening, he received a message that his "regime" has been meeting without him because they feel that because [redacted] has been so close to BONANNO that he [redacted] will be removed and another "captain" will take over. [redacted] said that his "regime" has spoken to GASPARE and that GASPARE said to make your own "captain". [redacted] said that he then stated, "This is peace? This is the way they want to make peace?"

[redacted] again mentioned that "the other captains" had been to the "Commission" and had not invited him. DE CAVALCANTE stated that he was going to make an appointment with the "Commission" anyway. [redacted] explained that concerning the meeting on Monday, he received a telephone message, "we have notified the Commission, no obstacles". [redacted] stated that after this meeting, he will go before the "Commission". He also reported that the message concerning the meeting came from [redacted] who is with [redacted]

SAM again stated that he would make the appointment with the "Commission" through CARLO GAMBINO. ZICARELLI interrupted and suggested to [redacted] that for the sake of the "old man" (BONANNO), [redacted] should go before the "Commission". [redacted] stated to ZICARELLI that nobody would like to help him (BONANNO) any more than he would, including his own son.

[redacted] then told DE CAVALCANTE that as it now stands, nobody has told him that once this is over, [redacted] will become a "soldier" or [redacted] becomes this or that. He said that nobody has opened their mouth, and he asks SAM what have they been fighting for, to throw the guy in the garbage can now? b6 b7C

DE CAVALCANTE, ZICARELLI and [redacted] all urged [redacted] to go before the "Commission" and relate there what he has told SAM. [redacted] agreed and stated that everything he has said to them, he will say to the "Commission". [redacted] said that BONANNO has been his "boss" and to him he has been a good "boss".

ZICARELLI suggested that BONANNO deserves to have a voice in any meeting "because he's the guy on the rack today". [redacted] stated BONANNO has resigned as a "boss" but only as a "boss" and not as a friend of ours. "If this man wants to go back to Arizona and take part in the regime there, he does it."

[redacted] then referred to the charges against BONANNO and stated that concerning the charge of refusing to appear before the "Commission", the administration of the "family" advised him not to go. [redacted] stated that at a meeting in the lawyer's office, attended by [redacted] JOHNNY BURNS, BILL BONANNO, JOE BONANNO and himself, all advised BONANNO to "stand pat" and not go before the "Commission". He stated later that the meeting was held in [redacted] office.

DE CAVALCANTE stated to [redacted] that he, [redacted] would probably be asked by the "Commission" why BONANNO made this last move, that being the kidnaping move. [redacted] replied that this was a personal thing which he was not going into now; that he is not in a position to explain it because he did not have enough information regarding it. DE CAVALCANTE stated that he would probably still be asked this question. [redacted] stated that an indictment was supposed to be coming up, to which DE CAVALCANTE replied that he, BONANNO, made everybody "hot" by doing this (apparently referring to the kidnaping). [redacted] replied that he was not going to go into this now.

DE CAVALCANTE then asked [redacted] if he had attended a meeting where BONANNO spoke to his "captains" in [redacted] house. [redacted] stated that he was not at [redacted] house but that he did attend a meeting in [redacted] house where BONANNO had explained everything that had happened and that everyone there had voted BONANNO confidence. [redacted] stated that [redacted] was "acting for [redacted] was not at the above meeting because FRANK LA BRUZZO was out of the hospital. b6 b7C

[redacted] then indicated that [redacted] he will go home for the holidays and then leave again. He stated that right after the meeting on Monday he will contact DE CAVALCANTE and tell him "tomorrow I'm at liberty" (to see the "Commission"). He further stated that if, for any reason, the meeting set for Monday is cancelled, he will be available to go before the "Commission" sooner. b3 b6 b7C

On 12/30/64, NK 2461-C* reported that JOSEPH ZICARELLI contacted SAMUEL RIZZO DE CAVALCANTE. ZICARELLI said he had attended a meeting the previous night designated by the "Commission", presumably in NYC, and attended by the committee, to administer the BONANNO "family". All of the former "caporegima" were present as well as about 30 selected members. The only invitee not present was JOHNNY BURNS (JOHN MORALES) who was ill and had to remain at home.

Although not stated at the outset, ZICARELLI contacted DE CAVALCANTE on behalf of [redacted] who still harbors some reservations about withdrawing his support from JOSEPH BONANNO. [redacted] is also concerned for the safety of BONANNO, his son, and JOHNNY BURNS once they are stripped of power. ZICARELLI assured [redacted] that his fears were groundless but, nevertheless, agreed to speak to DE CAVALCANTE. DE CAVALCANTE gave similar assurances, stating that he discussed the matter of BONANNO's safety with CARLO GAMBINO and JOSEPH COLOMBO and that they are agreed that no reprisals will be taken. b6 b7C

On 2/2/65, NK 2461-C* reported that DE CAVALCANTE met with an individual believed to be [redacted] who has been described as DE CAVALCANTE's "underboss" from [redacted] DE CAVALCANTE advised [redacted] that BONANNO has only five originals left with him. This included JOHNNY BURNS, SALVATORE BONANNO, his son, [redacted] and couple of other guys. [redacted] inquired of DE CAVALCANTE if they still have [redacted] to which DE CAVALCANTE replies that he had straightened him out a couple of weeks ago, but there still appears to be a little hard feelings. SAM stated that [redacted] is stuck with BONANNO, but that they are going to take them in and all the men are supposed to forget the old sores. SAM advised [redacted] that GASPARINO looked like the favorite to be the "boss" and he has the "Commission" behind him. [redacted] expressed pity for JOE BONANNO, who had enjoyed great respect and prestige, but felt that he now must be getting senile. b6 b7C

SAM advised JOE that BONANNO put MAGLIOCCO up to a lot of things, like killing CARLO GAMBINO and TOMMY LUCHESE.

SAM went on to advise now they feel that BONANNO poisoned MAGLIOCCO and that he, MAGLIOCCO, did not die a natural death, because the only one who could accuse BONANNO of plotting against GAMBINO and LUCHESE was MAGLIOCCO. They suspected he used a pill on him.

SAM advised [redacted] that BONANNO tried to take California over when they were having trouble and sent "the kid" out there with 40 men. The "Commission" stopped him and that is where the trouble started. SAM stated that if BONANNO would have listened to him, SAM, this thing would have been all straightened out and they would have just bawled him out. [redacted] stated that it is a shame, since BONANNO was only 58 or 59 years of age and had a great deal of prestige. [redacted] went on to state that it was bad for the morale of "our thing" when they make a rule and then break it themselves. b6 b7C

NK 2461-C* reported on 2/3/65, that DE CAVALCANTE met with JOSEPH ZICARELLI. ZICARELLI advised DE CAVALCANTE that JOHNNY BURNS, true name JOHN MORALES, is still holding out with maybe 8 or 10 of his people, but was considering coming in if he could be guaranteed everything would be all right and no reprisals taken against him and his men. SAM indicated to ZICARELLI that he would give him the assurance of the "Commission" that everything would be all right for BURNS, and they could also bring BILL BONANNO in too, if they desired. It is again reiterated that DI GREGORIO would be the "boss" and they could also bring CHARLIE BATTAGLIA in from Arizona, and with one move everything would be cleaned up so long as JOHNNY BURNS makes the move. ZICARELLI indicates that CHARLIE BATTAGLIA will do what JOHNNY does.

NK 2461-C* reported on 2/5/65, that JOE ZICARELLI met with SAM DE CAVALCANTE at about 4:30 p.m., 2/5/65. It appeared that negotiations to settle the BONANNO dispute amicably have broken down. DE CAVALCANTE indicated CARLO GAMBINO has advised that the "rebel's" stipulations are unreasonable and DE CAVALCANTE and ZICARELLI have been placed in the untenable position of having to guarantee good conduct to both sides. ZICARELLI stated he will not hear from [redacted] until Monday, 2/8/65, at which time he intends to criticize him severely for not handling the "rebel group" properly. It appears that DE CAVALCANTE would welcome a way to withdraw gracefully from any further involvement. b6 b7C

During the course of an investigation conducted by SAS [redacted] at Ernesto's Restaurant and Bar, 268 New Main Street, Yonkers, NY, on 11/19/64, at approximately 10:05 p.m., it was noted that an individual standing at the end of the bar threw a lighted cigarette which landed on a table where five or six young (19-24 year old) male individuals were seated. b6 b7C

A fight started instantly after the cigarette hit the table and some 15 to 20, of the 30 or more individuals in the bar, began brawling through the bar area of the restaurant, knocking over tables, chairs, and silverware trays. The fight moved from the bar area into the back of the restaurant and continued in the dining room area. In the dining room area, tables and booths were knocked over as the fight proceeded through the back door onto Park Hill Avenue and into the middle of the avenue, stopping traffic across New Main Street and in both directions on Park Hill Avenue.

This fight, involving some 15 to 20 individuals in this 19-24 age group, continued until 10:25 p.m., when it ceased immediately and the entire gathering dispersed in all directions.

At this time, a squad car of the Yonkers, New York PD and an emergency van of the Yonkers, New York PD, arrived in the area and parked in the intersection of New Main Street and Park Hill Avenue, preventing traffic from proceeding through this area. Approximately six or eight police officers got out of these vehicles, entered Ernesto's Restaurant and proceeded to arrange tables, furniture and pick up eating utensils that had been thrown on the floor as a result of the fight.

These police officers, immediately after rearranging the furniture in Ernesto's, departed in their vehicles without asking any questions of anyone concerning what had happened in the restaurant and bar.

Also, on the evening of 11/18/64, while conducting an investigation in the vicinity of Ernesto's Restaurant, 268 New Main Street, Yonkers, NY, the following was observed:

NY File 140-3424

A letter received from the WFO, dated 1/21/55, contained the following information:

For the information of the NYO, it is noted that Bulet dated 1/14/55 pointed out that a desk telephone directory containing approximately 450 names was obtained by the Washington, D.C. Metropolitan Police Department in 1948 on a raid at the residence of [redacted] was identified as a Communist Party member and head of the "Worker" ("Daily Worker") Commission in Washington, D.C. b6 b7C

The Bulet noted that on the list appeared the entry "WILLIAM POWELL MALONEY, RE 8200, X 386." The Bureau noted that this was the phone number in 1949 for the Justice Department and suggested that WFO ascertain if MALONEY was still employed by the Department.

[redacted] Administrative Aide, Records Administration Office, Department of Justice, advised that her files indicated that WILLIAM POWER MALONEY entered on duty 2/17/34 and resigned 2/15/40. He again returned to the Justice Department 5/20/41 and resigned 5/8/46. [redacted] advised that Mr. MALONEY is an Attorney practicing in NYC.

The Manhattan Telephone Directory indicates that WILLIAM POWER MALONEY maintains a law office at 8 West 40th Street, NYC, telephone number LO 56864.

By airtel dated 1/27/55, the NYO advised the Bureau that a suitable pretext telephone call was made to WILLIAM POWER MALONEY, Attorney, 8 West 40th Street, NYC, who advised he had formerly been associated with the Department of Justice in an administrative capacity. Mr. MALONEY stated he was no longer employed by the Federal Government.

[redacted] address is [redacted] telephone number [redacted] He is described by [redacted] as [redacted] is alleged to prefer association with "racket guys" in [redacted] interviewed by SAS [redacted] on 11/17/64, and could furnish no informationre disappearance of BONANNO.

[redacted] advised that the only information he has concerning BONANNO is sketchy and is based entirely upon articles appearing in the news media.

[redacted] denied that he ever had information on him stating that BONANNO could be in Puerto Rico and was at a loss to understand why the FBI might believe he could be of assistance regarding BONANNO's status.

[redacted] stated that in the event that he ever heard any news concerning BONANNO, which possibility he considered extremely unlikely, that he would immediately advise the Los Angeles Office and assist the Bureau in any possible manner.

It is noted in referenced report on Cover Page W., lead number eight, the NYO was to determine if "GASPARINO" was identical to one GASPARE DI GREGORIO, 737 West 5th Street, Babylon, New York. The NYO investigation definitely determined both are identical and that GASPARE DI GREGORIO has assumed the position of "boss" of the old JOSEPH BONANNO "family" of "La Cosa Nostra."

Information relative to GASPARE DI GREGORIO will be furnished to the Bureau and interested offices in the case entitled, "GASPARE DI GREGORIO aka; AR," (OO:NY), NY 92-3603 Bu 92-8172.

I. INTERVIEWS OF [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] was interviewed in Room 406, United States Court House, Southern District of New York (SDNY) and he advised as follows: b6 b7C

He personally believes that the kidnaping of JOSEPH BONANNO was legitimate, that it was an actual kidnaping. It could be, one, a hoax, or, two, legitimate. If it was a hoax, JOSEPH BONANNO is alive; it it is legitimate, he is either, one, alive, or, two dead. He believes JOSEPH BONANNO is alive and that he is not to be killed. If they wanted to kill him, it could have been accomplished at 35 Park Avenue on October 21, 1964, as the escape after a murder would have been as successful as the escape after the kidnaping. BONANNO had been forcibly taken or, at least, gave the appearance of being taken by force. To be a hoax, JOSEPH BONANNO would have contacted him for the legal possibilities involved in taking such action, but JOSEPH BONANNO did not contact him concerning this, although JOSEPH BONANNO also has other attorneys he could have consulted. Another reason for believing this is not a hoax is that there is a civil tax case pending against JOSEPH BONANNO in Arizona which involves disallowed deductions. JOSEPH BONANNO stands to lose a considerable amount of money if he is not present to defend himself in this action, which [redacted] considers "we" have a good chance of winning. JOSEPH BONANNO had no motive to have himself kidnaped. "We're talking in terms of kidnaping, which this is not, strictly speaking," said [redacted]

[redacted] said he always felt that JOSEPH BONANNO would have contacted him long ago if [redacted] had been able to return immediately to Tucson, and "had I not been subjected to the treatment I have received by this little....."

At this point in the interview, [redacted] New York City Police Department and Assistant United States Attorney GERALD WALPIN, SDNY, entered the room and [redacted] continued:

[redacted] I didn't tell you the cab driver's name was [redacted] That's an Irish name. I would have remembered if I had told you that. I never said [redacted] I said [redacted] or some similar name." [redacted] noted [redacted] is a big man and the driver of the cab that picked him up at the Pen and Pencil was smallish, with a Jewish name. "He was Jewish. He was five feet six, five feet seven, five feet eight or five feet nine, in that range. He wore a cap. I remember his name as I have a client named [redacted] and the cabbie's name was similar, although I cannot recall the name exactly." b6 b7C

[redacted] was told that he had also furnished the name of [redacted] to two Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) agents on October 21, 1964, and [redacted] stated:

"I don't recall talking to the FBI on October 21st. I never told the FBI or anyone else the name of the cab driver was [redacted] because I would remember if I had said it because the name is a short Irish name."

[redacted] continued by saying that he specifically recalled the cabbie because the cabbie did a rather odd thing by stopping at a newspaper stand at 43rd Street and Lexington Avenue while "he left me waiting in the cab", and then he came back with two copies of the "Daily News", one of which he gave to [redacted] who had not requested the cabbie to do this and he claimed he was somewhat upset by this action. It was then that he noted the cabbie's name. After the cabbie gave him a copy of the newspaper, he decided not to make a complaint against the cab driver for what he considered illegal activity. They then proceeded directly to the Commodore Hotel. The fare was approximately fifty five cents, plus tip, but he did not recall the amount of the tip nor the monetary unit with which he paid the cab driver. [redacted] said he then went directly to his room in the Commodore, took off his coat, tie and shirt, washed his teeth and then called [redacted] He estimated that it took him approximately ten to fifteen minutes before he placed this call to [redacted] He then quickly dressed, boarded another cab at a location he could not recall and proceeded directly to 35 Park Avenue.

[redacted] following the above, furnished his diary and work papers to Assistant United States Attorney WALPIN.

[redacted] while walking through the corridors of the United States Court House, Southern District of New York, advised that: b6 b7C

He too has an analytical mind and he realizes that, if the story [redacted] told is true, he would have gone directly to 35 Park Avenue, New York City, from the Pen and Pencil Restaurant instead of going to the Commodore Hotel first, but he would not know anything more than he has already said. He said he would not have seen anything for he would have arrived after the kidnaping because the cab in which he was riding stopped for a newspaper on 43rd Street and Lexington Avenue.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that, if [redacted] story is true, then the story of [redacted] stopping for a newspaper was not true and he would have arrived at 35th Street and Park Avenue prior to the arrival there of WILLIAM POWER MALONEY, JOSEPH BONANNO and [redacted] as they had stopped to get newspapers and to let [redacted] out of the cab at Grand Central Station; and, again, if [redacted] story is true, [redacted] was an eyewitness to the kidnaping and, whether the kidnaping was a hoax or legitimate, [redacted] knew in advance it was to take place.

[redacted] continued, "My conscience is clear and I know I told the truth [redacted] b3 b6 b7C "There can be no weighing of values between perjury or conspiracy to obstruct justice, as my license would be revoked in either case."

[redacted] went on to say, "We will know in our lifetime whether BONANNO is alive or dead or whether the kidnapi was a hoax or legitimate." b6 b7C

He claimed he has always felt that, had he been able to return immediately to Tucson, JOSEPH BONANNO would have contacted him there. That is why he was so anxious to get out of New York City and back to Tucson on October 21, 1964.

[redacted] indicated that he had planned to leave New York City today on the next flight to Tucson but now, "because of this taxi cab chicken (obscene), I am going to see Mr. MALONEY, my attorney, to work this thing out." b6 b7C

[redacted] complained of the "treatment I have been subjected to in the Southern District of New York. I am not going to let this thing be forgotten. I am going to carry this thing further. I don't know when....."

October 19 through 23, 1964		Back in New York for JOSEPH BONANNO
October 26, 1964	-	Back in New York for JOSEPH BONANNO

It should be noted the explanations in parenthesis above are those furnished orally by [redacted] explanatory of the entries. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that these are the only entries on the time sheets which indicated work chargeable to BONANNO's account. These entries do not mean that [redacted] spoke with BONANNO either in person or by telephone in connection with his business except as set out and as an example, several entries in the name of [redacted] (IRS) were listed. This indicates work with [redacted] Agent with the Internal Revenue Service, in connection with that agency's civil case against JOSEPH BONANNO.

[redacted] said his diary, which is separate from the time sheets, has various notations, many of which are entered in the diary by his secretary, such as scheduled pre-trial conferences, trials, hearings, etc. In checking through the diary, he found no entries indicating conferences or telephone calls with JOSEPH BONANNO. [redacted] turned the pages individually of this diary while making his explanation, holding same within view of the interviewing agent.

[redacted] had one of the girls in his office give him all of the long distance calls charged to BONANNO's account, which again do not mean that [redacted] or any other attorney in the firm spoke with BONANNO in person, but means rather the telephone calls were in connection with BONANNO's business. The calls are set out as follows:

June 15, 1964 - to New York, $5.19

June 26, 1964 - to Canada, $17.65

July 13, 1964 - to Canada, $13.97

July 22, 1964 - to Canada, $4.88

July 22, 1964 - to Montreal, $22.20

October 7, 1964 - to Phoenix $2.12, made by Attorney [redacted]

[redacted] said that their records do not contain any references to the identity of the person with whom they spoke on these various long distance calls but he added that those to Canada were obviously not with JOSEPH BONANNO because the latter was incarcerated in a Canadian jail at the time and could not have been talking long distance with [redacted] said he recalls some of these calls were to attorneys in Montreal who were handling the BONANNO case there.

[redacted] also advised there are seven attorneys in his firm, [redacted] He said these two attorneys are employees of the law firm but work directly under the supervision of, and are responsible to, [redacted] himself.

He stated they arrived in on October 13, 1964 and stayed at their second house, which they had not as yet sold.

He stated on one evening he went with and met at his residence; that on Saturday evening, October 17, 1964, he and and had dinner at Paulo's Restaurant in Tucson.

He recalled that during the dinner, received a phone call and upon his return to the table indicated that he had to go to New York on business for JOE BONANNO, the next day.

He added that never discussed his business affairs with them while they were in but that on Sunday morning, October 18, 1964, he stopped by their house with and that drove to the airport.

He recalled that he asked [redacted] whether BONANNO was in trouble and [redacted] replied, "Yes". He added that [redacted] explained that he had helped BONANNO on a couple of jams in Canada, but did not go into any details. b6 b7C [redacted] advised that they left [redacted] in [redacted] and returned leisurely, arriving in [redacted] on October 24, 1964.

He added they placed a call to the Statler-Hilton Hotel, New York City, on October 24, 1964, where they had been told by [redacted] he was staying, but were told by the operator that he was no longer at the hotel.

He stated they had called as they had talked to [redacted] to tell her and [redacted] that they had arrived safely [redacted] and they wished to have him stay with them while he was in the East. b3 b6 b7C

He added they called again on October 28, 1964, to the Statler-Hilton, phone MU 6-5454 to try to locate [redacted] but were told this time that he was out to dinner. He stated he asked the operator to have him call, but that he never did. b6 b7C

[redacted] was interviewed on November 27, 1964, and [redacted] on November 30, 1964, but neither were able to furnish any additional information. They both indicated that [redacted] never discussed his business or anything concerning BONANNO with them.

As to the exact times of the trip to the airport in Tucson, [redacted] concluded that they left about 10:10 a.m., arrived close to 10:30 a.m., and recalled the flight was to leave at 10:30 a.m., although he did not know the exact time or flight number.

AUSA WALPIN, SDNY, advised on February 16, 1965, that [redacted] b3 appeared before the Federal Grand Jury, SDNY, to give testimony relative to [redacted] on the dates listed hereinafter:

II. INTERVIEW WITH WILLIAM POWER MALONEY, VICTIM'S NEW YORK CITY ATTORNEY

United States Attorney (USA) ROBERT M. MORGENTHAU, SDNY, telephonically contacted the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), New York Office, on December 18, 1964. He advised that the USA's Office had received a telephone call from WILLIAM POWER MALONEY and MALONEY stated that he had received a telephone call from an unknown intermediary in behalf of JOSEPH BONANNO, who stated that BONANNO would be in his, MALONEY's, law office at 9 a.m. on December 21, 1964. MALONEY also indicated to Mr. MORGENTHAU that he was going to hold a press conference at his office, 40 Exchange Place, at 2:15 p.m. on December 18, 1964.

WILLIAM POWER MALONEY advised SAS [redacted] prior to entering his law office that he, MALONEY, had received a telephone call from an individual, whose identity he would not disclose, that he was told, that JOSEPH BONANNO was safe and well. MALONEY advised that BONANNO would be in his office at 9 a.m. on December 21, 1964, [redacted]

MALONEY stated that he did not wish to disclose the intermediary's name speaking in behalf of BONANNO at this time. MALONEY, thereafter, entered his office where he was met by many newspaper reporters and photographers waiting for the press conference to begin.

SAS [redacted] after being extended an invitation by MALONEY to attend this press conference, also entered the law office of MALONEY. b6 b7C

During an interruption in the press conference, SAS [redacted] overheard MALONEY in telephonic contact with the USA's Office in the SDNY, at which time MALONEY identified the unknown intermediary speaking in behalf of JOSEPH BONANNO as BILL BONANNO.

USA MORGENTHAU advised that he instructed MALONEY to come to his, MORGENTHAU's, office after completion of the press conference, inasmuch as he, MORGENTHAU, wanted to discuss the BONANNO matter.

Mr. MORGENTHAU stated that the session in his office with MALONEY was stormy and throughout, MALONEY proved evasive and uncooperative with him. MALONEY claimed he had received a telephone call in his office the other day at approximately 11:45 a.m. from BILL BONANNO, who had furnished MALONEY with a local number with the instructions to return his call from a public telephone in the lobby of MALONEY's office building.

Following these instructions, MALONEY recontacted BILL BONANNO, who revealed that his father was fine and safe, and then asked "what do you want to do?" MALONEY claimed that he instructed BILL BONANNO that he should have his father, JOSEPH BONANNO, in his office at 9 a.m. on December 21, 1964, [redacted] b3

USA MORGENTHAU advised that MALONEY evaded all efforts by the USA to elicit information relative to BONANNO's present whereabouts. When pressed for the telephone number at which he contacted BILL BONANNO, MALONEY claimed that he could recall only that the number was a Murray Hill 6 or 8 exchange and he could not be more specific since he had thrown the slip of paper on which he had noted this number away.

Mr. MORGENTHAU advised that MALONEY did state that he had telephonically contacted [redacted] in [redacted] at approximately 1:30 p.m. to acquaint him with the new developments. b6 b7C

USA MORGENTHAU advised that he had telephonically contacted [redacted] in [redacted] at approximately 4 p.m. on December 18, 1964, at which time [redacted] specifically noted that this was the first time he had heard the news. b6 b7C

[redacted] said she, in fact, did return from her date at an early hour, and at approximately 11:30 p.m., made a telephone call to MALONEY's apartment, however, this particular call went unanswered. She made a second call, probably at about 12:30 a.m., at which time she spoke to [redacted] an associate of MALONEY. She said she cannot recall the exact conversation, but recalled that her first impression of it was that something was wrong, and she immediately thought that MALONEY had perhaps been hurt or suffered a heart attack. At any rate, [redacted] informed her that MALONEY would return her call.

Approximately 15 minutes later, [redacted] added, MALONEY called her and gave her a quick summary of the event which just occurred. She said it was a very brief conversation, and as she recalled, MALONEY did tell her that he was shot at and that someone had been kidnapped. As far as she knows, the New York City police were in MALONEY's apartment at the time the telephone call was made to her. She added she has never been questioned by any other agency regarding the disappearance of BONANNO.

She cannot recall exactly, but said that most likely during the day on Wednesday, October 21, 1964, she received a telephone call again from MALONEY, at which time he requested her to join him in a drink at the Vanderbilt Hotel bar. The Vanderbilt Hotel is located at 34th Street and Park Avenue.

At the bar, on this particular occasion, were MALONEY's associates - [redacted] They remained in the bar a very short time. Then, they all walked to MALONEY's apartment house. She estimated the time to be approximately 6:00 p.m. On entering the lobby, they were confronted by [redacted] She explained that they all went to MALONEY's apartment and read the various newspapers and also watched the television newscasts.

She estimated that she remained in the apartment for about one half hour, and that most of her time was spent in tidying up the apartment since it had been in disarray from the previous night. In addition, she stated that she was busy answering the telephone inasmuch as MALONEY was receiving many telephone calls from various friends.

In general, she advised that she cannot recall any exact remarks of the general conversation of the persons present which revolved around the events earlier that day.

[redacted] advised that prior to this date, she had never met [redacted] and neither had she ever met [redacted] b6 b7C

On Thursday, October 22, 1964, [redacted] said she did not see [redacted] but did go to MALONEY's apartment again at approximately 6:00 p.m. Also present in the apartment at this time was [redacted] She recalled she remained twenty to thirty minutes. She was unable to recall any specific conversation, and said as far as she recalls there was some general conversation concerning items which appeared in the newspapers.

[redacted] advised that she only met [redacted] on the two occasions previously mentioned, and she has not seen him since that time.

[redacted] said she recalled she has visited the Pen and Pencil Restaurant approximately eight times during the past five years, but that she has never visited the Press Box Restaurant or Danny's Hide-A-Way Restaurant. Further, she advised that she does not have any girlfriends named [redacted] or does she know anyone by this name. Further, she denied ever discussing MALONEY's financial condition with anyone, prior to the alleged abduction, because she does not know anything about his financial condition.

[redacted] advised as far as she knows, BONANNO was actually kidnapped.

The following is a verbatim newspaper article, written by MILTON LEWIS, in the "New York Herald Tribune" Late City Edition, dated December 22, 1964, captioned, "Joe's No-Show - 2 Months Later":

"Joe Bananas, possibly because he just dreads publicity, figured in the anti-climax of the year yesterday. He is still among the 'kidnaped,' with his glum lawyer saying with crossed fingers he still expected him to show up one of these days.

"On Friday, William Power Maloney, counsel for the Cosa Nostra boss who disappeared two months ago, announced that his client would show up at the lawyer's office at 9 a.m. yesterday and go before a Federal Rackets Grand Jury an hour later.

"Those hours came and went yesterday. At least six city plainclothesmen and a like number of FBI agents, as well as hordes from all news media, inundated the scheduled coming of Joe Bananas to Mr. Maloney's office at 40 Exchange Place.

"At 10:10 a.m., a crestfallen Mr. Maloney - who hadn't shown up until 9:10 a.m. himself - came out of his inner sanctum to say, softly, that Bananas was a 'no show Joe' and that he (Maloney) was now on his way to appear before the very same grand jury - to try to explain.

"The last time Mr. Maloney had seen his client was 12:20 a.m. of Oct. 21, about 10 hours before Bananas was scheduled to appear - for the third time since August - before the rackets grand jury. He was 'forced' into a car by two 'thugs', one of whom pegged a bad shot at Mr. Maloney outside the lawyer's home at Park Ave. and 36th St. Lawyer and client had been together.

"Last Friday Mr. Maloney, acting in good faith, called a press conference to announce that he had gotten a telephone call from Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno's older son, Salvatore (Bill) Bonanno. The latter, Mr. Maloney said, reported that his father was 'alive and well' and that Bananas, at the lawyer's request,would appear at Mr. Maloney's office at 9 a.m. Monday. Mr. Maloney believed this implicitely.

"The huge 'welcome home' delegation for Joe Bananas followed Mr. Maloney to the U.S. Court House at Foley Square. Where the lawyer was full of his usual bounce three days previously, he appeared quite depressed yesterday, both before and after his grand jury appearance.

"He reported he was questioned for '30 to 40 minutes,' but other sources gave the time as 'more than an hour'. Mr. Maloney has made about six previous grand jury appearance since Bananas took off two months ago yesterday - and he will be back on the same grand jury stand at 10 a.m. today.

"Also questioned yestereday by the grand jury was Bananas' lawyer from Tucson, Lawrence P. D'Antonio, who testified for about 90 minutes. This was at least his seventh appearance - and he, too, will be back this morning, seemingly commuting between Tucson and Foley Square for U.S. Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau and his assistant, Gerald Walpin, who are known to feel that 'Bananas arranged his own snatch'.

"Mr. Maloney, after leaving the grand jury, as microphones were shoved toward his face:

> "'They wanted to know just what Bill Bonanno (Joe's son) told me in that phone call Friday, how I spent the weekend - and even what I had for breakfast today. I told them I had coffee cake and coffee. I told them the truth.'

"Was Mr. Maloney convinced that that call Friday actually came from the son?

> "'I am convinced of that. I know his voice, I had spoken to him before.'
> "'You think Joe Bananas is still alive?'
> "'I see no reason to change my opinion on that - yes.'

"'Why didn't Joe show up today?'

"'I'll be able to tell you that better when I ask him - when I talk to him, when I see him.'

"'You look worried, Mr. Maloney.'

"'That's my natural look. I have a worried look all the time.'

"'Where is Joe Bananas?'

"'I don't know."

"In the midst of this crowded colloquy with scores of newsmen, including those with heavy electronic equipment, a young man, dark-complexioned, thin and medium-tall attempted to take over, advising the press to 'take it easy', to 'give Mr. Maloney room'. He appeared to be in Mr. Maloney's entourage and when asked who he was replied, 'I'm from the family', without saying from whose family. Joe Bananas is boss of one of the five Cosa Nostra families in New York.

"Finally, Mr. Maloney disengaged himself and walked out of the press room, with this sharply-dressed young man tugging at his sleeve and whispering in his ear.

"'Who is he?' Mr. Maloney asked a Herald Tribune reporter.

"'Isn't he with you?'

"'Hell, no.'

"'Come with me - I have a car', the stranger said to Mr. Maloney, giving the distinct impression that he had some sort of message - from somebody - for the lawyer. So Mr. Maloney got into the young man's car, saying, 'I have to get back to my law practice.'

"The car bore New York license plate number 6L-3956, and, according to the Police Department, it is registered as a 1962 blue Chevrolet in the name of Murray Esposito of 2487 Coney Island Ave., Brooklyn. At that address there is a cooking oil business known as Esposito Bros., where it was said there is no Murray Esposito.

"Later in the day, Mr. Maloney was asked if indeed this young man had come with a message. Mr. Maloney left the lawyer's office, after his chauffeur said:

> "'I asked him what his connection was with the case. He told me: "I used to shine Joe Bananas' shoes on Henry St. in Brooklyn. I thought he'd show up today and I wanted to say hello to him. I like the guy. Tell him hello for me."'

"That was anti-climax No. 2 for the hectic day.

"With the stranger 'explained', Mr. Maloney was asked again:

> "'Do you expect Joe to show?'
> "'I certainly do expect him to. There's a lot of talk around town, I know, that he won't. Well, you can make yourself some money. You can bet $5 that he will show up.'
> "'When?'
> "'Very soon.'

"But U.S. Attorney Morgenthau - who hopes that Mr. Maloney is correct - was not taking any bets. For one thing, gambling is illegal in New York."

CRIMINAL

The files of the New York City Police Department, as caused to be checked on December 3, 1964, by Special Agent [redacted] failed to reflect any record for WILLIAM POWER MALONEY.

WILLIAM POWER MALONEY, on November 6, 1964, furnished to SA [redacted] a letter received by him from [redacted] b6 b7C dated November 4, 1964, which reads verbatim as follows:

"Mr. Maloney
Attorney at Law

"Dear Sir:

"In regard to item recently in the paper concerning Mr. Bonanno, I am sorry to hear of this bad luck. As his lawyer, I thought it possible you would be interested in seeing me. I had some information (valuable) which I believe all of you would be interested in learning. As it is not safe to write, one thinks about it. I trust you will understand as it is necessary for you to contact me personally.

"Sincerely,

[redacted] stated that [redacted] is a "letter writer", having noted that she has directed letters to "heads" of various foreign countries, as well as to influential people in [redacted] b6 b7C

Efforts to contact [redacted] at [redacted] proved negative.

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted]

After an unsuccessful attempt to locate [redacted] for interview on December 15, 1964, she was contacted on December 16, 1964, at [redacted] stated that she had absolutely no information concerning the victim but that the reason for writing to Mr. WILLIAM POWER MALONEY, victim's attorney, was that she knew of the existence of an electronic computer that had "intelligence built in" that enabled it to read a person's mind, and she needed someone to back her financially to conduct an investigation that would enable the Defense Department to take over the computer, and Mr. MALONEY might be interested in financing her venture.

[redacted] said that the computer was located at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, D.C. and that it also had a "psychiatric brain built in" which allowed it to ask questions and to determine electronically what the complete answer should be. She said that because of this, the psychiatrists assigned to the hospital did not have to conduct the examinations and the machine would judge a person insane, whether they were or not. She added that she had tested the range of this computer and it had a range of 3,000 miles.

[redacted] reiterated that she knew nothing of the "JOSEPH BONANNO case", and for obvious reasons, the interview was terminated.

[redacted] telephonically contacted the New York Office and requested a Special Agent of the FBI contact him immediately regarding information he possesses concerning JOSEPH BONANNO.

[redacted] advised the interviewing agents that he is [redacted] at [redacted] working from 6:00 p.m. to 2:00 a.m., Monday through Friday. [redacted] stated that at approximately 7:30 p.m. during the evening of December 1, 1964, a postman arrived with a registered letter for "JOSEPH BONANNO, Park Avenue, New York, New York." According to [redacted] he did not recognize the name at first and told the postman that there was no resident in the building by the name of BONANNO. It then occurred to him, [redacted] stated, that the letter could be meant for JOSEPH BONANNO who was abducted from in front of 35 Park Avenue on October 21, 1964. [redacted] stated that he also remembered that BONANNO's attorney, WILLIAM POWER MALONEY, is a resident of 35 Park Avenue and he called Mr. MALONEY asking him if he would sign for the registered letter since he was Mr. BONANNO's attorney. [redacted] stated that Mr. MALONEY instructed that the postman bring the letter to his apartment and he would sign for it. The postman complied with these instructions, according to [redacted] and MALONEY accepted the registered letter.

[redacted] stated that he saw the registered letter which the postman was carrying and noted that it was postmarked from Argentina and bore a return address which he could not remember. He stated that the letter did not have a street number, but the number "37" was on the letter as if the post office had inserted this number. He also stated that he was quite sure that the letter came from Argentina and carried a return address but he could not recall the sender's name.

USA MORGENTHAU advised on December 2, 1964, that he had contacted WILLIAM POWER MALONEY concerning the above-mentioned letter. MALONEY advised that he had signed for a registered letter directed to his client, JOSEPH BONANNO, at 35 Park Avenue, and that he would make this letter available to the FBI, inasmuch as he felt it was from a "quack" and had no bearing on the disappearance of JOSEPH BONANNO. It is to be noted that this letter received by MALONEY was written in Spanish and is translated verbatim as follows:

"Oct. 22, 1964
Argentine Republic

"Mr. Joseph Bonanno;

"With greatest consideration;

"I send you this letter as you are the only person who can help me and who will not deceive me.

"In the first place, I will ask you to do this favor. I know that you do not know me nor do I know you. But all the same, my situation is somewhat critical and again I ask you this favor.

"Mister Bonanno, I know there are many miles separating us, but I want you to know that I am detained in jail at Villa De Voto and I am sentenced to serve 7 years for armed robbery and hope to leave soon and I am hoping that you can give me $2,000.00. This amount will serve to obtain for me my release. As soon as I leave this jail, it will be possible for me to return this favor.

"This is all and I hope that you know half this favor. I know that I will not deceive you and I will fulfill my word. Nothing remans to be added and I leave you with my best respects.

IV. INTERVIEWS OF [redacted] b6 b7C

On December 23, 1964, [redacted] was contacted at his hotel room at the Astor Hotel, West 44th Street and Broadway, New York City. [redacted] He was advised by SA [redacted] that he did not have to talk to the agents and that any information he furnished could be used against him in court. He was advised also of his right to consult an attorney. b6 b7C

[redacted] said that he has been retained by SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO for the past few years, since about 1960, as [redacted] for BONANNO's business and real estate interests in [redacted] and vicinity. He said he met BONANNO through another client, [redacted] and has handled legal work for [redacted] acquaintance of BONANNO.

[redacted] also said he briefly assisted in a criminal case in which BONANNO was involved with the Tucson Police Department. He said that around September, 1964, he had advised BONANNO that a payment was being made regarding the sale of some property, for which the proceeds were approximately $24,000.00. He had been instructed by BONANNO, to whom the proceeds were due, to advise BONANNO when the arrangements were completed, and when [redacted] had obtained the money. [redacted] was negotiating with the Union Bank in Tucson, regarding these proceeds, and obtained the money, in the form of five checks, each for $4,000.00, and a check for himself of approximately $4,000.00 for fees and expenses. It was his intention to deliver that $20,000.00 to SALVATORE BONANNO when instructed to do so.

On the morning of December 21, 1964, [redacted] received a telephone call at his home in [redacted] from SALVATORE BONANNO, who asked him if he had obtained the checks, and when he said yes, BONANNO instructed him to fly to New York City to meet him as soon as possible. [redacted] told BONANNO that he would take the American Airlines flight which would arrive in New York City at approximately 8 p.m. that date.

BONANNO arranged to meet [redacted] at the out-of-town newspaper stand, West 43rd Street and Broadway, New York City, at about 8 p.m. - 9 p.m. However, due to delays, [redacted] arrived there late, and then checked into the Astor Hotel, West 44th Street and Broadway. He then received a telephone call from an unidentified male, instructing him to meet SALVATORE BONANNO at the out-of-town newspaper stand in 30 minutes. [redacted] followed instructions and was met at that location by SALVATORE BONANNO, who was driving a 1963 or 1964 grayish Cadillac. They drove for awhile, and ended up at an apartment at an unidentified location. They stayed there awhile, and BONANNO returned him to the Astor Hotel in the early morning of December 22, 1964. A few hours later, BONANNO called him again, and again picked him up, by arrangement, at the corner of West 43rd Street and Broadway. They again drove to the above-mentioned apartment and stayed there most of the day, and into the early morning of December 23, 1964. b6 b7C

BONANNO returned [redacted] to the vicinity of the Astor Hotel, and dropped him off. [redacted] briefly stayed in his room, and killed time around the hotel. He was again picked up by BONANNO at West 43rd Street and Broadway, around 6:30 a.m., December 23, 1964, by arrangements they had agreed upon when BONANNO dropped him off a few hours earlier. They went to a different apartment, and spent the day, until BONANNO drove him back to the vicinity of the Astor Hotel and dropped him off, minutes before 5:00 p.m., at which time he was contacted by the agents.

On December 23, 1964, [redacted] was interviewed in a Bureau car while en route to the office of USA ROBERT M. MORGENTHAU, SDNY, United States Court House, Foley Square, New York. The interview was continued at the office of USA MORGENTHAU, and again in a Bureau car, while en route to La Guardia Airport, Queens, New York. b6 b7C

The agents reviewed information furnished by [redacted] earlier that evening, and the following information was obtained from [redacted]

After arriving in New York City, on December 21, 1964, too late to keep his appointment with SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO, at West 43rd Street and Broadway, he registered in the Astor Hotel, West 44th Street and Broadway. After about an hour, he received a telephone call from an unidentified male, telling him to meet SALVATORE at the out-of-town newsstand, West 43rd Street and Broadway in 30 minutes. [redacted] went to that location, and was soon picked up by SALVATORE BONANNO, who was driving a 1963 or 1964 grayish Cadillac.

They drove, apparently away from New York City, for one and one-quarter to one and three-quarter hours, and arrived at an apartment building where BONANNO parked the car on the street in the vicinity. [redacted] said he could not recall whether or not they stopped for coffee en route to the apartment, but believed they did. They left the car and entered the apartment building by a basement door, and went up to approximately the tenth floor by a self-operated elevator. There was no doorman. In [redacted] opinion, the apartment was about five years old, moderately furnished, clean, not elaborate, with two bedrooms, one or two baths, with a terrace overlooking similar apartments. He estimated the building to be about 15 to 20 stories high, and a few blocks from a main thoroughfare.

On this occasion, he gave BONANNO the five checks, each for $4,000.00, and as far as he knows, BONANNO might still have them. While they stayed at the apartment, they discussed business, mutual friends, politics and like subjects. [redacted] declined to report any conversation he had with BONANNO, claiming this to be privileged conversation between himself and his client.

On Tuesday morning, December 22, 1964, BONANNO drove [redacted] back to the vicinity of the Astor Hotel, and [redacted] walked the few blocks from that location to the hotel. [redacted] arrived at the hotel at about 4:30 a.m. to 5 a.m. At 6 a.m., SALVATORE BONANNO called [redacted] at the hotel and arranged to pick him up at the above-described newsstand in about 20 minutes. They again drove to the same apartment building, and went into the same apartment, described above. After a while in the apartment, he and BONANNO left to eat breakfast at a restaurant within a 15 minute drive of the apartment. [redacted] identified this restaurant by means of a matchbook as [redacted] After eating, they returned to the same apartment, and continued to discuss business, the $20,000 in checks and similar matters. [redacted] stayed in the apartment, but during the day, BONANNO left for a while. [redacted] slept, watched television, and passed time away during the day. Some time during the day, after BONANNO returned, another man arrived and stayed briefly. The man was not introduced, and left shortly. [redacted] described him as 5'11" to 6'3", but could not be specific on any other details. Photographs of several persons were shown to [redacted] but he could not identify any as being this man.

At about 7 p.m., BONANNO cooked supper in the apartment. [redacted] stayed in the apartment all day, while BONANNO came and went. [redacted] recalled that the telephone numbers were missing from the telephone or telephones in the apartment. At about 9 p.m. that night, [redacted] want to call [redacted] BONANNO directed him to use a booth in the vicinity of the apartment.

[redacted] recalled that he left the apartment building by the front door, turned left through the parking lot, walked to the nearest street, turned right and walked for about a block. He turned left and walked a block to a main street. He then turned right and walked a block or two to a telephone booth. He recalled passing a gas station en route and thought it might have been a Richfield station, or possibly a Shell station. He called [redacted] from the booth, calling her at his home telephone number in [redacted] which is [redacted] told him to call [redacted] regarding government attempts to stop payment on the $20,000.00 in checks. [redacted] went back to the apartment to discuss this with SALVATORE BONANNO, and after discussion, went to another booth in the same area to call [redacted] In order to get to this booth, [redacted] left the apartment to go to the street, and when he reached the street, he turned left and walked about a block. He turned left and walked another block and then right to a gas station, which he believed was a Sunoco station. He used a telephone booth in this station, and called [redacted] at [redacted] home. He recalled that in order to get to this telephone booth, he passed a large, empty field. [redacted] furnished a rough sketch of the relative locations of the above-described telephone booths, and the apartment. He used a telephone credit card, number [redacted] in making both of the above calls.

He also recalled that earlier in the day, he called the New York City office of WILLIAM POWER MALONEY, Attorney, and spoke briefly to Mr. MALONEY. He identified himself as [redacted] from [redacted] and asked to talk to [redacted] was not available, so [redacted] called back a half hour later and spoke to [redacted] was brief with him and warned him he did not want to talk to [redacted] because to do so would result in [redacted] receiving a Federal Grand Jury subpoena. This was a ten cent local call from a third telephone booth in the vicinity of the apartment.

[redacted] and SALVATORE BONANNO left the apartment house between 1:30 a.m. and 2 a.m., Wednesday morning, December 23, 1964, and arrived in the vicinity of the Astor Hotel between 4 a.m. and 5 a.m. [redacted]

b6

[redacted] and most of their discussion was on this matter. BONANNO dropped him off in the vicinity of the Astor Hotel, and arranged to pick him up at 6:30 a.m. at the out-of-town newsstand on West 43rd Street and Broadway. It is noted that [redacted] believed BONANNO was driving the same car as he did on December 21, 1964. b3 b6 b7C

[redacted] stated he decided, rather than to return to the Astor Hotel for such a short period of time, he would walk casually around the Times Square area of New York City and window shop. b6 b7C

At about 6:30 a.m., December 23, 1964, as arranged, BONANNO picked him up, this time in a bluish-gray 1963 or 1964 Cadillac, license not recalled. They drove for about one and one-quarter to one and three-quarter hours, to an apartment, similar to the previous one, but not the same, and not in the same building. The area was similar, but did not appear to be the same area in which he had been on the previous days. BONANNO took him to an apartment on the fifth or sixth floor of a 15 to 20 story building, which building they entered by a basement door. [redacted] stayed in the apartment all day, from about 8 or 9 a.m. until midafternoon. [redacted] left the apartment only to call [redacted] at [redacted] again using his credit card, and unsuccessfully tried to call a client in [redacted] He talked to [redacted] regarding BONANNO's checks and returned to the apartment. He said that to make the calls, he went out the front door of the apartment building, turned left and walked until he reached the street. He again turned left for a block and right to an Esso or Mobil gas station, where he made the call from a phone booth. He again furnished a rough sketch of the area.

BONANNO was absent from the apartment from about 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. [redacted] recalled that the number plates on the telephones in the apartment were blank.

They left the apartment around midafternoon and drove to within a few blocks of the Astor Hotel, where BONANNO dropped him off. He advised BONANNO that he was to return to Tucson, and BONANNO told him he would call him there, but did not say when.

[redacted] returned to his room at the Astor Hotel, [redacted] b3 b6 b7C

At the conclusion of the interview, [redacted] intended to fly via Eastern Airlines, 10 p.m. shuttle flight to Boston, Massachusetts [redacted] b6 b7C He would then fly to Tucson and return to New York City on December 28, 1964.

[redacted] again said that they did not discuss the disappearance of JOSEPH BONANNO, and he had no idea regarding any of the facts surrounding it. He last saw JOSEPH BONANNO around 1962 or 1963.

On February 10, 1965, [redacted] b6 b7C was met by SAS [redacted] at the United States Court House, Southern District of New York, Foley Square, New York, New York. He was advised by SA [redacted] that he did not have to talk to the agents and that anything he said could be used in court. He advised that [redacted] he was aware of these rights.

At 11:40 a.m., [redacted] voluntarily accompanied the agents in a Bureau automobile to the vicinity of 42-55 Colden Street, Queens, New York. After driving directly from the United States Court House to this area, the agents cruised the area for a distance of several blocks in either direction, inquiring of [redacted] whether or not he recognized anything in the area which he could identify with the area to which he had been taken by SALVATORE BONANNO on December 21, 22 and 23, 1964. He said he could recognize nothing.

[redacted] was driven to an area near the front entrance to 42-49 Colden Street and then accompanied SA [redacted] into the lobby and first floor of 42-55 Colden Street, which is directly across the parking lot from 42-49 Colden Street. After viewing the lobby, elevators and first floor hallway of 42-55 Colden Street, he said that the building was similar to the apartment buildings to which SALVATORE BONANNO had taken him on December 21, 22 and 23, 1964. However, he said he could not say definitely whether this was, or was not, one of the apartments to which SALVATORE BONANNO had taken him.

When asked how he found his way back from various telephone booths to the apartments during the period December 21-23, 1964, he said he recalled that BONANNO had written something on a piece of paper which he used to identify the apartments. He also recalled that in one of the SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO was interviewed at the Pima County Jail, Tucson, Arizona. He was told at the outset that he did not have to make any statement, and any statement made by him could be used later in a court of law against him. He was advised that he had a right to counsel.

BONANNO advised that he departed New York City by automobile with an individual by the name of [redacted] b6 b7C He advised he met [redacted] through an acquaintance of his, whose identity he did not wish to disclose. He said they left New York on December 27, 1964, by automobile, arriving in Tucson, Arizona, December 29, 1964.

BONANNO stated that they drove his, BILL's, automobile which is a 1964 green Cadillac, bearing New Jersey license number ILO 271.

He stated when they arrived in Tucson, [redacted] registered for them at the Spanish Trail Motel under the name of JAMES ROSSI.

BONANNO advised that he was arrested shortly upon his arrival in Tucson, and expressed amazement that the government actually placed him under arrest, [redacted] b3 With reference to his father, JOSEPH BONANNO, BILL stated that the kidnaping was not a hoax, but a legitimate action. He advised that he does not know the perpetrators of the crime nor the present whereabouts of his father.

B. Information concerning the citing of SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO by USDC Judge CHARLES H. TENNEY for contempt relative to Federal Communications Commission Statute, Title 45, USC, Sections 203 and 501

United States Attorney ROBERT M. MORGENTHAU, Southern District of New York, telephonically advised the Federal Bureau of Investigation, New York Office, on March 2, 1965, that SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO had been cited for civil contempt by United States District Judge CHARLES H. TENNEY on March 2, 1965.

Mr. MORGENTHAU stated BONANNO was cited under provisions of Federal Communication Commission statute, Title 47, United States Code, Sections 203 and 501. BONANNO was afforded immunity under the above statute but continued to refuse to answer questions relative to the disappearance of his father, JOSEPH BONANNO, on October 21, 1964, and his telephone calls with attorney WILLIAM POWER MALONEY.

United States Attorney advised BONANNO was cited for civil contempt which carries an indeterminate sentence and is customarily unbailable.

Mr. MORGENTHAU stated SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO was turned over to the United States Marshal's Office who in turn committed BONANNO to the West Street Jail, New York City.

The following is an article appearing in the "New York Daily News" dated March 3, 1965, written by NORMA ABRAMS, entitled "Young Bananas Jailed Till He Talks".

"Chiquita Banana said never, never put bananas in the refrigerator. Federal Judge Charles H. Tenney disregarded her advice yesterday and opened a federal cooler for Salvatore (Bill) Bonanno, son of Cosa Nostra's missing Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno.

Judge Tenney found the 32-year-old Bill guilty of civil contempt and committed him for refusing to answer questions before a federal grand jury probing his father's kidnaping by two 6-foot thugs early Oct. 21.

"Young Bananas' lawyer, Albert J. Krieger, tried to have his client sentenced for criminal contempt-for which a term must be fixed.

"It Can Run and Run

"Judge Tenney made it civil contempt-which carries an indeterminate sentence, customarily is unbailable, and can run for months or years, unless the offender decides to purge himself by talking.

"Back of it was Bill's repeated balks before the grand jury in its attempts to learn (a) what happened to Joe and where he is now, and (b) an explanation of some curious hocus-pocus in December in which Bill figured.

"It was on Dec. 18 that Bill phoned exciting news to his father's lawyer, former Assistant U. S. Attorney William Power Maloney, who had been a witness to Joe's kidnaping in front of a Park Ave. apartment house and had even had a shot fired at him when he tried to help his client.

"Alive and Well, He Said

"Bill told the lawyer his father was alive and well and would appear in his office Dec. 21 and go before the grand jury. His disappearance, incidentally, occurred just 9½ hours before he was to have faced the same investigating body on Oct. 21.

"Over the phone, arrangements were made for Bill to produce his father for a preliminary meeting with Maloney in a Manhattan hotel the day before his Dec. 21 official return.

"But Joe didn't show for either date. And Bill in numerous appearance before the grand jury - the U. S. attorney's office says he was in 10 times under subpena - refused to explain the affair, even under a grant of immunity.

"The Client-Attorney Bit

"Bill's defense was that a client-attorney relationship existed between him and Maloney.

"I have no reservations in saying that there was no attorney-client relationship here", Judge Tenney declared. "He has refused to answer the questions and now he has to take the consequences.

"In his refusal to answer, the dignity of the court has been attacked by the witness. The government is also aggrieved, as is the grand jury. He is to be held until such time as he shall purge himself by answering."

"The 6 foot 2, heavyset Bonanno listened impassively.

"Lawyer to Try for Bail

"His lawyer, Krieger, announced he would go before the U. S. Court of Appeals Monday in a plea to have bail set.

"The grand jury has a large Cosa Nostra group due before it today. Among them, Sam Giancana, syndicate boss of Chicago; Gerardo Catena, top mobster in Jersey, and Tommy Eboli, lieutenant to imprisoned Vito Genovese.

While so employed on Nov. 14, 1964, I accepted on that date, an application for a furnished apartment from a young man, who identified himself to me as said that he was self-employed as a lawyer, and wanted an apartment while in the process of relocating his law practice into the area. As I recall, telephoned me first, in response to a newspaper ad for the apartments and thereafter came to my office. He took a four month lease, beginning Nov. 15, 1964, and wanted to occupy the apartment Nov. 15, 1964. He wanted a two bedroom

"I recall that [redacted] paid the $240.00 initial monthly rent, and $240.00 security deposit by $300.00 cash, together with a check for $180.00, but I do not recall on which bank the check was drawn.

"I would describe [redacted] as a white, male, age 31, height 5'9", husky build, dark hair, medium to dark complexion, brown eyes, wears glasses, well dressed.

[redacted] is described as about the same age as [redacted] but did not wear glasses.

"I had no subsequent contact with these individuals.

I commented on this, and [redacted] said that they wanted to be careful since the opening of the new business was to be kept secret for the time being. They made a $30.00 cash deposit toward the $240.00 initial monthly rent, and $240.00 security deposit. They said that this was all they could pay at the time, since they had no more cash. They promised to be back on Monday, Nov. 23, and to pay the remainder, $450.00. b6 b7C

"They inquired if it would be permissible for the third man to come and stay at the apartment every so often, as he would be coming into town periodically in connection with relocating the business. I said it would be alright, but when they asked for additional keys, I told them that they would have to obtain extra keys at their own expense.

"I recall that all three men were very well dressed, and wore expensive jewelry, and that [redacted] had numerous types of identification, showing him to be in the jewelry business in [redacted]

"As we were in the process of completing the rental application, I noticed that the third man looked at his wristwatch. Immediately thereafter, [redacted] said they had to leave, and they left.

"On Monday, Nov. 23, [redacted] came to my office by cab, which dropped them off in front. They allegedly had just come from the airport, and while in my office, [redacted] tore up and threw away what appeared to be an airlines ticket or envelope. "Special Agent [redacted] has shown me a group of photographs. I have chosen three of these photographs which I have identified respectively as [redacted] and the third man mentioned above. In the photograph which I chose, he was wearing glasses. I recall that the glasses he was wearing on Nov. 19 were heavier than those in the photograph.

[redacted] was interviewed at his place of employment, [redacted]

[redacted] advised that [redacted] and identified a photograph of [redacted] as the regular occupant of Apartment 12 E, from late November, 1964 to date. He said that the Apartment was frequently occupied by an average of six men and one woman during this period. He could not say whether or not all these people actually stayed at the apartment, or whether they were just visitors.

[redacted] recalled that sometime in December, 1964, possibly during the first few weeks, he was installing weather-stripping on the front door of his apartment, and while in the hallway, heard loud conversation from Apartment 12 E. People in that apartment were discussing going to the race track, and subsequently left to go to the track. The door to Apartment 12 E opened, and two young men between 25 to 30 years old and one middle aged man left to go to the elevator, and had a small dog with them. [redacted] believed the dog was a short haired terrier type.

A few moments later, a woman and three men came to the door of that Apartment, and the woman stopped for a few minutes and talked to [redacted] about general topics. She asked if he liked New York City, and they discussed the City in general. He stopped briefly at the corner of 35th Street under the canopy of an apartment house and then crossed Park Avenue and walked on the west side of Park Avenue from 35th Street to 34th Street, where the Vanderbilt Hotel is located. He did not notice any beige or gray-colored car, and he noted no activity at the corner of 35th Street and Park Avenue at the time he passed that location. He does not recall having heard any shots. [redacted] thought the situation strange initially because [redacted] always expressed a preference to live at [redacted] rather than in [redacted] but was purchasing the property because of [redacted] tremendous desire for privacy. In addition,

[redacted] invested approximately $75,000 in renovations for this property and attempted to purchase numerous other parcels of land in the same area. He pointed out that money is no object to [redacted] and he does not believe that [redacted] income would allow him to spend money as freely as he does. In connection with the improvements [redacted] originally hired local help to perform construction work but repeatedly had fights with the laborers and contractors and eventually would up bringing in contractors and labor from [redacted] He also made a big issue of these fights and the fact that he was spending so much money and bringing in help from [redacted]

He further advised that [redacted] tried to buy property for a landing strip for an airplane, which [redacted] used. [redacted]

[redacted] described [redacted] as "overweight and alcoholic", and recalled that she often sat at the kitchen table with a bottle of scotch on one side and a loaded revolver on the other. This was while [redacted] went to [redacted] on business. He described [redacted] business as [redacted]

He also believed that [redacted] had a permanent home in [redacted]

[redacted] was also suspicious of [redacted] since [redacted] was Italian and since he had read that JOSEPH BONANNO might be hiding in [redacted] He further had learned from [redacted] that [redacted] had lost his income tax papers and was in trouble with the Internal Revenue Service, repeatedly complained of having heart trouble, and being under tension.

[redacted] indicated to [redacted] that it was possible that he would die suddenly some day, whether of heart trouble or otherwise, [redacted] did not know.

[redacted] had no personal knowledge or specific reason to believe that there is any connection between JOSEPH BONANNO and [redacted] said that he heard that a search was being made in [redacted] for JOSEPH BONANNO and said that he felt that [redacted] home would be a good place to look. [redacted] readily said that this information is based solely on suspicion and that he has no factual information on which to base his feelings that there may be some connection between [redacted] and JOSEPH BONANNO.

[redacted] telephonically contacted SA [redacted] on January 15, 1965, and advised that [redacted] told him today that about a week previously [redacted] had been in conversation with [redacted] whom [redacted] stated has some connection with [redacted] said that he had during the previous week heard a group of "Mafia people" from the Boston area discussing the captioned matter, the gist of which was that BONANNO is now in a place called Torreminas (ph), Sicily. He had supposedly left the United States aboard a Panamanian freighter, name unknown. [redacted] advised he had no additional information and merely passed this information on for whatever it might be worth.

On the 30th of January, 1965, an article appeared in the "El Tiempo", a Spanish newspaper, entitled "JOE BANANAS" ESTA en SICILIA; CONVOCAN CONGRESO de MAFIA. The following is the English translation of the aforementioned article:

"Rome, Italy (by telephone) (Especially for 'El Tiempo'). The notorious leader of the Mafia Joe Bonanno aka Joe Bananas, who disappeared the 21st of October, 1964, was found in Italy living in a small town of Sicily called Taormina, according to 'El Tiempo' of New York, who has been informed by reliable sources.

"On the 21st of December, WALTER WINCHELL wrote that he had received a telephone call from an individual saying that Joe Bananas was going to testify before the Grand Jury the next day. The call was a guise to divert the attention of the authorities while Bananas continued living in Sicily.

"Later WINCHELL stated that Bananas could also have disappeared from Taormina, but at the time he was writing his column, Bonanno, one of the most feared leaders of the Mafia and an attendant of the Mafia Congress at Apalachin, is in Sicily.

"According to what we have been able to ascertain, the notorious gangster never was kidnapped, but did not wish to appear before the Grand Jury, and arrived in Italy on a Panamanian cargo ship disguised as a member of the crew. He left the day after having been 'kidnapped' at the entrance to the apartment of his attorney, William P. Maloney.

"Bonanno or 'Bananas', one of the most important figures in organized crime in the United States, will remain in Italy until the Spring when this country will celebrate another 'congresso' of the Apalachin type, but on a much smaller scale, with the attendance of the Mafioso from all parts of the world.

"One of those attending will be the famous Joe Adonis, who was deported to Italy many years ago, and who earned millions of dollars since having established residence in this country.

Adonis, who had to go to school to learn Italian, arrived in Italy with several millions of dollars and he has since duplicated his fortune. Within three months his daughter will marry one of the leaders of the Italian Mafia and this will be the official motive for the guests who will gather, among whom shall be the most important leaders of the Mafia world from all parts of the hemisphere and Europe.

"Immediately after the wedding, the nucleus of organized crime in the United States, Italy and South America, will meet, this time without difficulties, because they have learned much from their experiences with the police in Apalachin, State of New York, and because they have the protection of the feared Italian Mafia.

"In the ceremony and party after the wedding of Adonis' daughter, the famous singer, Frank Sinatra, who has ties with these kind of people, will sing as guest of honor.

"Most of the important Maffian gangsters of the United States, who have valid passports or who can return to this country without difficulty, will attend the wedding.

"According to what we have ascertained, the members of the Mafia in the United States are well preoccupied with the 'image' of the Italians in the United States and by the fact that crime organized by members of the Maffian family has the reputation of being narcotic traffic.

"According to reliable sources, since four months the Mafia hasn't meddled into narcotics business within the United States and will punish the members who still insist upon doing so. The high Mafian chiefs will still, however, maintain control of the narcotic traffic, but only as (top authorities?) and only outside of the United States, not for direct sale or the little merchants within the country.

"They have decided, according to what we have ascertained, to contract a public relations firm of Madison Avenue in New York to create a better and more acceptable image in general of the Mafia and the 'families' that control their many legitimate businesses.

"The members of the Mafia aren't going to abandon their actual campaign to control the city of Boston, City of the Kennedy family, which is the bulwark of the United States, where the Mafia doesn't control the organized crime. Still, in Boston, the Irish and Jewish gangsters control the 'rackets'. Nevertheless, during the last months, 19 Irish and Jewish gangsters have been assassinated, and the strong men of the Mafia are taking possession of the organized crime in that city with a lot of help from certain police elements.

"One of the elements involved in this campaign is JIMMY 'BLUE EYES' (OJOS AZULES) ALUI, ex-associate of the gangster MEYER LANSKY, who has the concession of the game in Cuba."

Mr. FRANK BURNS, Secaucus, New Jersey, not further identified, telephonically contacted the headquarters of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D.C., in the early evening of January 14, 1965, and advised as follows:

"JOE BONANNO is not dead. If you get HANLON, Fourth Avenue, Bayshore, Long Island, you will get BONANNO."

On January 16, 1965, the Washington Field Office, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D.C., received information telephonically from an unidentified individual that certain people involved in the JOSEPH BONANNO case would be meeting at [redacted] has been known to the New York Office for the past several months. [redacted] is [redacted] whose family residence is in [redacted] and who are currently welfare relief recipients. [redacted] himself has been employed in various locales around New York State, and, by [redacted] admissions, frequents his home at very irregular and unscheduled intervals. She has described him as an alcoholic and from his telephone conversations with Agents of this office, it is indicated that when he is drinking he is subject to hallucinations.

For example, in November, 1964, Secret Service received information from an anonymous source that [redacted] was in possession of numerous counterfeit $10.00 bills. Investigation failed to reflect that [redacted] had any such counterfeit money and it is believed that [redacted] was the source of the anonymous information concerning himself. On another occasion, [redacted] visited the Police Commissioner's Confidential Squad of the New York City Police Department and advised officials there that he was a paid informant of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This was definitely not true and [redacted] has at no time furnished any information to this office.

As recent as January 14, 1965, the date of the alleged call from [redacted] to the Bureau, [redacted] was in telephonic contact with Agents of this office at the Garden City Resident Agency, to whom he has previously spoken and alleged at that time that he was on "an undercover assignment not involving the police or the FBI".

For several weeks, Agents of this office have been attempting to locate [redacted] through [redacted] in order to remonstrate with him for his allegations to the New York City Police Department that he is a paid informant of this office.

Although he has telephoned the Garden City Resident Agency and this office and has spoken to Agents, he has failed to keep appointments with Agents and subsequently expressed the feeling that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was going to arrest him on unstated charges.

Because of [redacted] background, his habitual drinking and his past activities, it is considered most unlikely that the "Cosa Nostra" leader, JOSEPH BONANNO, would have anything to do with [redacted] His home in [redacted] is run down and is occupied at the present time solely by [redacted] b6 b7C

It is believed most likely that the [redacted] who telephoned the Bureau on January 14, 1965, was, in fact, [redacted] himself.

On January 4, 1965, [redacted] advised he received information today from a highly confidential source, whose identity he cannot disclose, to the effect that an individual named [redacted] resides at [redacted] and this individual is a furniture upholsterer who allegedly has some knowledge of putting narcotics inside of upholstery. [redacted] said his source related JOE BONANNO was supposedly at this individual's home at the above address several days after his alleged kidnaping. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] related that his source told him he did not want the information divulged to anyone and he did not want the information to emanate from [redacted] pointing out that the source undoubtedly heard the above information from unknown source, whose reliability is unknown. He said he had no further information other than the above and had on January 4, 1965, telephonically contacted [redacted] Central Intelligence, New York City Police Department, and furnished him the above information, and [redacted] related he would notify the federal authorities.

Inasmuch as recent facts and developments in captioned case are unknown to Tampa, the above information is furnished for whatever action deemed advisable.

[redacted] DI BERNARDO advised that he has been married for 34 years, that he has never been in trouble with any authorities, and had recently had a heart attack. He advised that both he and [redacted] are presently under the care of a physician. DI BERNARDO stated that his brother, PIETRO DI BERNARDO, had operated an upholstery store at 890 Broadway, Brooklyn, New York and that this brother had been in the business for several years in that area and had died about two years ago. He commented that it might be possible that BONANNO may have patronized the store operated by his brother; however, he did not know this to be a fact. He stated that at the time of his brother's death, the brother had left no money and that the brother's house had to be sold in order to pay the expenses for the funeral. DI BERNARDO advised that he has been living at his current residence for over sixteen years

[redacted]

[redacted] DI BERNARDO stated that he could not furnish the names of any individuals who would claim that he knew JOSEPH BONANNO, advising that he has had no trouble with any of his fellow employees and did not know of anyone who would indicate to authorities that he knew JOSEPH BONANNO. DI BERNARDO exhibited various official papers, particularly his naturalization papers, indicating that he had recently gathered all these papers together [redacted] b6 b7C

During the interview of DI BERNARDO, photographs of FRANK LA BRUZZO, [redacted] were exhibited to him and he advised that these individuals were unknown to him.

The provisions of the Federal Harboring Statute were explained to MATTEO DI BERNARDO, [redacted] At the conclusion of the interview, DI BERNARDO advised that the agents would be welcome to interview him at any time concerning the allegation that he knew JOSEPH BONANNO. DI BERNARDO concluded by stating that his home telephone number was [redacted] He advised that in the past he had resided at [redacted] and had resided in [redacted] prior to his moving to [redacted]

[redacted] stated that he never saw BONANNO and definitely had no information or overheard anything which would assist in locating JOSEPH BONANNO. He denied that he ever had heard that JOSEPH BONANNO was in the Tucson area or contemplated going to New Mexico. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that the only other [redacted] whose name he did not know was employed on a 11:00 p.m. to 7:00 a.m. shift and that [redacted] was well known to [redacted] at [redacted] whose name he recalled phonetically as [redacted]

By communication dated January 25, 1965, the Phoenix Division advised that they had received information that one [redacted] had been in Denver from January 16, 1965, to January 18, 1965, attending a hardware convention. The information received revealed that on the evening of January 16, 1965, a conversation was overheard between [redacted] and two unidentified men, who were also apparently attending this convention. In this conversation, which took place in [redacted] on [redacted] in [redacted] reportedly told these individuals he knew all about "Cosa Nostra" in Phoenix, and, through his acquaintance with SALVATORE VINCENT BONANNO, son of JOSEPH BONANNO, he was able to learn that JOE BONANNO was presently hiding out at "The Rock" in Mexico.

It is noted that there is a popular resort and fishing area called Rocky Point located in the State of Sonora, Mexico, about 200 miles southwest of Phoenix on the Gulf of California.

On January 25, 1965, [redacted] advised Special Agents of the Phoenix Division that [redacted] is presently at his place of business, [redacted] located at [redacted] which she said is 60 miles north of [redacted] His telephone number there is [redacted] and she said he will be there until January 30, 1965, when he will go to [redacted] where he will stay at either [redacted] or [redacted] In the conversation with [redacted] she advised she knows [redacted] is acquainted with [redacted]

[redacted] was located at [redacted] on January 26, 1965, and advised that he has no information regarding "La Cosa Nostra" outside of what he has read in newspapers and magazines. He stated newspapers in Phoenix have been full of the JOE BONANNO matter, and he may have made a kidding remark to the effect that JOE BONANNO was probably fishing in Mexico at "The Rock", but he has never heard any legitimate information to this effect.

[redacted] says there is a place called Point of Rocks somewhere in Mexico, which is spoken of by many Phoenix people as a popular vacation and fishing spot. He has heard this place called "The Rock", but he has never been there and has no idea at all where it is located in Mexico.

[redacted] stated he does not know JOE BONANNO or SALVATORE BONANNO, and has never had any contact with them to his knowledge. [redacted] represents [redacted] a well-known firm on [redacted] an area which sells [redacted] and [redacted] travels over the country in such business. Among his customers is [redacted] run by [redacted] in [redacted] He has been selling to [redacted] about four years, and always has trouble collecting, but [redacted] business is relatively new, and he needs this account.

[redacted] had to initiate legal proceedings in past to collect, and it developed that [redacted] is the attorney for [redacted]

[redacted] read in the newspaper that [redacted] and as a result [redacted] asked [redacted] about JOE BONANNO on one occasion, but they refused any comment. [redacted] recently remarked, possibly in December, 1964, to [redacted] in an off-hand manner, that [redacted] may have to get the money to pay [redacted] from his relative, JOE BONANNO. [redacted] said he may have to do this and, as a result, [redacted] has the strong impression [redacted] and JOE BONANNO are related, but the tie-in of JOE BONANNO to [redacted] is unknown, if it actually exists, as [redacted] has the feeling it does. b6 b7C

On January 18, 1965, the Phoenix Division advised that they had received information that JOSEPH BONANNO, JR. opened a checking account at the Bank of Scottsdale, Scottsdale, Arizona, with a cash deposit of $470.00.

On January 20, 1965, JOSEPH BONANNO, JR. returned to the above bank and attempted to cash a check dated January 22, 1965, in the amount of $500.00, which was payable to himself, JOSEPH BONANNO, JR. This check was drawn on the First National Bank of St. Paul, St. Paul, Minnesota, and was imprinted bearing the name [redacted] Account Number [redacted]

The signature on this check was illegible, and the bank of Scottsdale refused to cash the check for BONANNO.

[redacted] was interviewed on January 26, 1965. [redacted] advised he is [redacted] and has wintered in Phoenix for the past sixteen years.

[redacted] said [redacted] became acquainted with JOSEPH BONANNO, JR. in Scottsdale, Arizona, about one year ago, meeting through mutual friends. Subsequently, BONANNO, JR. and other friends, including [redacted] visited [redacted] home quite frequently. [redacted] said all these boys were very interested in drag racing and about a month ago came to him with a proposition that he finance them in the modification of a car to be driven at the forthcoming national drag races to be held in Phoenix next week.

[redacted] said [redacted] were aware of the identity of JOE BONANNO, JR.'s father. He said, however, [redacted] encouraged him to aid these boys, with the result that he first advanced [redacted] $600.00. He said he then last week advanced BONANNO, JR. another $500.00 in the form of a check, in addition to $200.00 in cash. [redacted] said he is having BONANNO, JR. sign a note for the whole amount with no interest, which note will be payable in five years. He said he believes by then BONANNO will have been able to launch himself on a career.

[redacted] advised that she is a [redacted] and she considers it a challenge to try to assist BONANNO, JR to overcome "the sins of his father".

[redacted] advised that he knows nothing regarding "La Cosa Nostra" or the BONANNO family, except what he has read and furthermore realizes he may be a sucker, but that he tosses this kind of money around all the time and believes the money he advanced to BONANNO, JR. may prove worthwhile.

Assistant United States Attorney GERALD WALPIN, Southern District of New York, requested the Federal Bureau of Investigation to locate and interview one [redacted] relative to his associations with JOSEPH or SALVATORE BONANNO.

BONANNO offered to get some new business for [redacted] was very happy to receive this help and agreed to take BILL BONANNO in as a partner in his [redacted] business provided BONANNO succeeded in getting him some new business. They both agreed that [redacted] would contribute into this business [redacted] coupled with the business he already possessed with the aforementioned [redacted] BILL BONANNO, on his part, agreed to contribute a new Cadillac into this business. BILL BONANNO, it was agreed, would use this new Cadillac in soliciting new business for the [redacted] would be the President of this business. b6 b7C

BILL BONANNO was not accompanied by anyone else during the above discussion. On the above occasion, [redacted] did not know that BILL's last name was "BONANNO". [redacted] only knew him by the name of "BILL". BILL BONANNO only knew [redacted] by the name of [redacted]

BILL BONANNO is a frequent visitor on West 38th Street, the garment district, in Manhattan and is well known by everyone in this district by the name of "BILL". BILL BONANNO is also well known as a "solicitor of new business" for truckers in the garment district.

[redacted] again met with BILL BONANNO on October 20, 1964, on [redacted] On this occasion, BONANNO was accompanied by two unknown males. BONANNO told [redacted] that he was still trying to line up some business and would keep [redacted] advised as to his success. BONANNO gave [redacted] a bill of sale for a new Cadillac which he had purchased in New Jersey. [redacted] recalled that this bill of sale reflected that this Cadillac was purchased from an unknown auto rental agency, located somewhere in New Jersey. BONANNO explained that he would utilize this Cadillac in procuring new business for [redacted] BONANNO instructed [redacted] to take the above bill of sale to the New York City Division of Motor Vehicles in order to obtain New York registration plates.

In the early part of December, 1964, [redacted] registered the aforementioned Cadillac at the New York City Division of Motor Vehicles, and this registration was made in the name of the [redacted] registered this Cadillac himself, inasmuch as he was the President of the above business.

[redacted] met BILL BONANNO for the third time approximately two weeks before Christmas, 1964. They again met on West 38th Street in Manhattan, and BONANNO was alone. BONANNO had not obtained any new business for [redacted] BONANNO related that he was going on a two weeks vacation. Following this vacation, BONANNO stated that he would conscientiously endeavor to get new business for [redacted] On this occasion, [redacted] gave BILL BONANNO the New York license plates for the Cadillac.

[redacted] saw BILL BONANNO for the fourth and last time on Tuesday, January 12, 1965, on West 38th Street in Manhattan. On this occasion, [redacted] told BONANNO that he has read in the newspapers that BONANNO was arrested by the authorities, and that BONANNO had in his possession the new Cadillac. [redacted] asked BILL BONANNO if this meant that he, [redacted] was in trouble. BILL BONANNO replied that [redacted] was not in any trouble and instructed [redacted] to send an affidavit to [redacted] In this affidavit, BONANNO instructed [redacted] to state the truth, which was that [redacted] registered the Cadillac in the state of New York inasmuch as he, [redacted] was the President of [redacted] and that BILL BONANNO was authorized to utilize this Cadillac in the business.

[redacted] has had no additional contacts with BILL BONANNO. [redacted] had no knowledge that BILL BONANNO's father was JOSEPH BONANNO. BILL BONANNO never discussed anything about his father's disappearance with [redacted]

[redacted] has no knowledge of any activities of members of "La Cosa Nostra". He has no knowledge that BILL BONANNO or his father, JOSEPH BONANNO, are in any way associated with "La Cosa Nostra". b6 b7C

In conclusion, [redacted] stated that if he had any knowledge that "BILL's" last name was BONANNO or that "BILL's" father was JOSEPH BONANNO, he would have had nothing to do with BILL BONANNO from the very beginning.

[redacted] b6 b7C was contacted and interviewed on November 24, 1964, at which time she advised that she was closely associated socially with Mrs. FAYE BONANNO in the past.
