

I love life. I never kidnapped, raped, or burglarized anyone. My attorneys cancelled the press conference today, for reasons I don't understand. Tripling my bail. ~~the~~ D.A. granting so many interviews. Lies promoted and recycled, many of them discredited already.

~~_____~~, ~~_____~~, ~~_____~~, ~~_____~~,
~~_____~~, ~~_____~~, ~~_____~~, ~~_____~~,
and ~~_____~~ — you have the blood of an innocent man on your hands. It's wrong to criminalize religious sin to shun guilt of a single mom living with angry parents that she went home with a guy and slept with him.
For a green card or absolving guilt or the immense peer pressure by intermediaries, I was killed. I'm not taking my own life — but accepting the fact that I've already been killed. Only my death will drop the charges and the shield now used to hide these exaggerations, distortions, and manufactured lies. God knows, Mom knows, and many others know — this hurricane-like frenzy, and the corresponding mob killed
the truth of what actually happened. ~~the~~ Now the investigation will begin and undo the false narrative. So many friends and even 2 brothers turned their back on me. The only person I'll ever have pointed a gun at is me. The presumption of innocence is dead, and so am I.

Reputation threats? Really ~~██████████~~? I cannot believe the lies. Burglarizing you, hitting you? The delusional group think, the frenzy is stunning.

Without my defense attorneys restricted by shields and judges and fears, I'm sure ~~the~~ hopeful that my friends will take a second look. A wrongful death suit, as undesirable as it may sound, is the only way to get subpoena power needed to fully expose this tragic and motivated murder.

I remember a time when a man was innocent until proven guilty by an impartial jury. I can see the one-sided and massive media campaign the D.A. engineered to help such ~~unfounded~~ unfounded accusations. 8th, 6th, and 5th Amendments were killed, and so was I.

I hope that, and I'm confident that my ~~assassination~~ assassination will cause more attention to be paid to the damage to all friends of liberty caused by the mob mentality. I cannot even describe to you oh Ariston Utahns, the abundant lack of restraint or kindness. What happened to innocent until proven guilty? Rape is a serious and shocking charge. People run and gasp and gossip - and they want a picture of a bad guy on their TV right away. What if I'm found not guilty? What if lies, reasonable doubt, and contradicting testimony unravels the accusations? Do I get all my clients back? All their trust? My reputation, my home? To my family ~~friends~~ friends, someday, albeit not now, I believe you'll see I'm doing the right thing by ending the extraordinary pain to you, and exposing lies & injustices. I love you → all very much. I'll miss you. I want you to remember the songs we sang, the steaks I grilled for you, the service and volunteerism we did together, the many laughs we shared, the fun we had.

When my mom and I read thru the descriptive and falsified "whopper" lies for the days we experienced together, we just shook our heads in amazement.

Obviously coordinating/changing/recycling parts of [REDACTED] discredited story, to give her some guilt relief from a screaming mom babysitting while you dared go home with/sleep with a guy... and to get a badly desired U.S. visa/Green Card for yourself. The rest were so blatantly coached in their exaggerated distortions that were suddenly crimes after 2.5 years of being consensual.

This was a case about regret not rape. Add a dose of retribution, greed, and a green card, and some peer pressure... And you've got an angry mob. And only one of the accusers had sex with me. I always stopped at stop or no. There are several testimonials who I've never met, and women who made advances at me repeatedly, for years, like [REDACTED] on TV calling me their pursuer? Groupthink. This could happen to your brother, your uncle, your son. I just wish I had audio of every date. Dry humping is not a 2nd degree felony, especially when you help into the guy's bed to do it, [REDACTED]

I meet my Creator in a few short minutes, so I have no reason to ~~live~~. I want the world to learn from this tragedy, and to hear my side of the story that never got told, 3 months, and you guys didn't step forward, didn't speak out, only listened to the frenzy of mob-driven exaggerations.

At gunpoint? I'm just hearing this now. None of them were ever shown or threatened with a gun. I've never threatened anyone with a gun, and my statement to one that I owned one was copied and distorted by [REDACTED], who had months to build up her story.

[REDACTED] has blood on his hands. Ironically, ~~those with the most sins often lead the mob.~~ Take a close look at the blackmail, extortion, and media manipulation he instigated. From the time he threw an elbow in December at Philpot's event to provoke me, this guy has been the center of this hateful factory of lies.

It's frustrating when my own lawyers won't let me fight back, and when the money for private investigators is drained by excessive bail. I'm quite comfortable returning to my Maker, as he knows that I committed no crime. It's sad to see fornicators themselves use a person's fornication to kill him, right [REDACTED]? You were bankrupt & jealous, but you'll be exposed.

Thanks to the few true friends who stood by me during the media storm, didn't judge, showed support and love. God is my only judge. I saw one last sunrise - cloudy but beautiful.

Make my accusers famous, so you can reveal their lies, their motives, their history. Wrongful death suit is in order. Dig deep.

Again, not all of you judged.
Some showed compassion. I'm grateful for that.
I want you to scrutinize and investigate, so this never happens to another single man.

It is wrong to criminalize religious sin of someone you don't like. It's wrong to destroy an honest life with this self-serving malice.

I love you Mom, Rob, Amey, John, Karen, Anna, Steve,
and Jeremy, Uncles, Bishops, and those who stood by me.
Getting an impartial jury isn't possible with the D.A.'s unprecedented media blitz. Happy with God as my judge. Please remember the many good moments we shared. Please work to stop this from happening to another peaceful man.

~~Gregory N. Peterson~~ I love you all very much, even the fairweather friends. God bless you.
