Incident Summary – Homeland Security Assist CI # 2026-22005

At approximately 1326 hours, Santa Ana Police Department (SAPD) officers received a request for assistance from Homeland Security regarding two off-duty Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agents who were being followed by multiple suspects in a vehicle.

The ICE agents reported that the suspects began following them after they departed a federal building in Santa Ana. The suspects followed the agents to the area of 800 W. 17th Street, where the agents entered an alley in an attempt to evade them. The suspects subsequently blocked the agents' vehicle inside the alley. When one of the agents attempted to contact the suspects, they backed their vehicle away but remained in the alley.

Due to concerns for their safety, the ICE agents were instructed to drive to the SAPD station. While en route, the suspects continued following the agents, driving erratically and reportedly running two red lights in an attempt to maintain contact with their vehicle.

Upon arriving at the SAPD station, the ICE agents parked in front of the building. The suspects followed and parked directly behind them. The suspects then used a megaphone to yell obscenities toward the agents.

SAPD officers arrived and contacted both parties. The suspects were detained pending further investigation.

During the investigation, the ICE agents reported that the suspects had previously disrupted two separate ICE operations in the [redacted] before following them to Santa Ana. The agents stated they were familiar with the suspects. Given that the suspects had observed them conducting official federal operations and subsequently followed them while they were off duty, both agents expressed concerns for their personal safety.

Both ICE agents desired prosecution for the suspects' actions, including violations of Penal Code § 148(a)(1) – Resisting, Delaying, or Obstructing a Peace Officer, and Penal Code § 646.9 – Stalking. The agents also advised that they had recorded the incident to document the suspects' conduct.

Based on the investigation and the suspected coordinated actions of multiple individuals, Penal Code § 182(a)(1) – Criminal Conspiracy was also added to the listed charges. The two female suspects were booked into the OC Jail.

The suspects' vehicle was subsequently towed and stored because it could not be legally parked at the location.

Suspects

Madison Crabill [redacted]

[redacted]

Adilene Tonoco [redacted]

[redacted]